Steamer Alabama Breaking Way Toward Helen N., Imprisoned In Ice In Lake Michigan With Five Aboard Hungry and Cold---Planes Employed.

MUSKEGON, Mich., Jan. 29. — (By the Associated Press.)—The Goodrich steamer Alabama, in an attempt to reach the fishing tug Helen N, imprisoned in the ice in Lake Michigan, has crashed its way to within 150 feet of the craft. Lieut. George F. Schouden, who is flying a scouting plane from Selfridge Field, Mount Clemens, made this announcement on his return from a trip over the lake this morning.

Craft Tightly Wedged.

MUSKEGON, Mich., Jan. 29.—(By the Associated Press.)—Their craft still wedged in a huge ice floe, five of the eight members of the crews of the fishing tugs Indian and Helen N., faced additional hazards this morning somewhere in Lake Michigan between here and Grand Haven as their food and fuel supplies continued to dwindle. Hopes for their relief rested upon an airplane expedition from Seldridge Field, Mount Clemens. Two planes left the field at 9 a. m., and are expected here about 11 a. m.

Ten pound cans of food and forty pound cartons of coal were assembled at the aviation here during the night. These the planes will attempt to drop on the decks of the two tugs.

Three youthful members of the crews risked their lives late yesterday and fought their way across the ice fields to shore. They brought first reports of the depleted food and fuel supplies.

For the older men to attempt the perilous trip across the ice, they said, would have been suicide. One of them, Theodore Graham, jr., attempted to return to the vessels with food last night, but because of the darkness and treacherous ice had to abandon the effort. All said they undertook the trip ashore because of the plight of their comrades and thier own hunger. The food supply, they said, virtually gave out Wednesday night.

Gales Sweep Pacific.

CHICAGO, Jan. 29.—(By the Associated Press.—Across northern United States from coast to coast the forces of winter ran riot today with respite promised only for the middle section.

CITY BUILDING KEEPING PACE

Recordbreaking building operating operations in Lincoln in 1925 have continued into 1926. It was revealed Friday noon by the permit records of the building inspector.

For the first twenty-nine days of January there were fifty-one permits issued for a total of $100,920. This is the highest figure ever reached in the first month of a year, both in number of permits and the money involved. In the same month a year ago the records show, 28 permits for $67,770. Building during the month was featured by residential construction, $99,420 of the total being for homes.

In 1924 there were twenty permits issued for $81,175, and forty-nine permits for $95,698 in 1923, the largest January on record until this year.

Marrying Squire Has Special Rate For Anxious Girl

FORT MADISON, Ia., Jan. 29.—(AP)—Justice Joseph Hayes' attempt as "marrying squire" to help the movement for a better price for corn by offering to marry couples for two bushels of corn may not affect the movement much, but it promises to make two persons happy in wedded bliss.

Elsie Maunders, 19-year-old girl of Virgil, S. D., was so impressed with the plea of Walter Stein of New Braunfels, Tex., for a life mate of good character that she wrote Hayes asking to arrange the matter.

Hayes replied she had best attend to the matter herself, but offered to perform the ceremony without the customary two bushels of corn, if it could be arranged.

Long Search For Alleged Embezzler Ended At Chicago

CHICAGO, Jan. 29.—(AP)—J. K. Fronk, sought throughout the country on a charge of embezzlement of $300,000 from Los Angeles banks, was arrested here early today. He waived extradition and will be returned to California, the detective bureau said.

Fronk was seized at the request of Los Angeles authorities who yesterday announced they believed he was lost in the maze of Chicago's underworld, penniless, friendless and critically ill.

The fugitive had only $800 with him when he left Los Angeles, detectives there said.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 29.—(AP)—J. K. Fronk, under arrest in Chicago, is wanted here in connection with what police alleged were the largest check kiting operations ever carried on in southern California.

As head of the J. K. Fronk Finance Co., the bureau of Business Standards, Inc., and a fictitious concern, the Western Auto Co., the fugitive is alleged to have swindled eight Los Angeles and nearby banks out of $300,000 or more.

Four of the "financier's" associates were arrested immediately, but Fronk eluded a trap and fled.

The paper structure of finance Fronk is alleged to have built around himself started in a small way two years ago. His system was declared by police to have been that of issuing worthless checks to meet other worthless checks. By keeping numerous bank accounts and two sets of books, he was declared by those who investigated his operations to have employed a system that fooled the best minds in the city's banking business.

Landowner Wins $285.85 Judgment

A $285.85 award for Mary C. Moore and against Lancaster county was made Friday by a District court jury after deliberating two hours.

Mrs. Moore sued for $2,500 as the result of alleged damages to her acreage which was reduced by two acres when Cotner boulevard was put through. The county claimed that although the land had been reduced slightly in extent, its value was greatly increased by the new highway. Other landowners deeded property for the right of way gratuitously.

DAMAGE SUIT IN HANDS OF JURY

Final Arguments In $75,000 Action Against Railroad Heard Friday.

Louise Mitchell's $75,000 damage damage suit against the Missouri Pacific railroad for the death of her husband, James N. Mitchell in 1921 went to the jury Friday afternoon after concluding arguments by R. W. Devoe and C. F. Reavis for the plaintiffs and Guy Chambers and Yale Holland for the defendants.

Mrs. Mitchell claims that negligence of the railroad's employes resulted in the death of her husband while he was inspecting coal as president of the City Fuel company. The railroad asserts that Mr. Mitchell's inspection was made in an irregular manner and that he himself was guilty of gross negligence.

This trial of the case, the third time it has been up in Lancaster District court, was before Judge Fred Shepherd. On the first of the other occasions, the railroad got a verdict. The next jury awarded Mrs. Mitchell $20,000 but its decision was reversed and the case sent back for retrial when the Supreme court held that wrong instructions had been given the jury.

DICKINSON BILL APPROVED BY FARMER BODY

Fundamental Principles Of Measure Establishing Federal Board To Care For Marketing Of Surplus Favored At Iowa Meet.

LEGISLATIVE BUREAU MAY BE ESTABLISHED

Brief Storm Raised During Meeting By Charge Of One Speaker That Gathering Had Been "Packed" For The Dickinson Plan.

DES MOINES, Jan. 29.—(By the Associated Press.)—The all-agricultural marketing advisory committee, created here yesterday at the mid-west conference to map out plans to aid agriculture, was enlarged today by the addition of two members.

William Hirth of Columbia, Mo., chairman of the Corn Belt Committee of Agricultural Associations, and Frank W. Murphy of Wheaton, Minn., chairman of the executive committee of the American Council of Agriculture, were elected as members-at-large.

This was announced by the committee's chairman, George N. Peek, of Moline, Ill., who also revealed that the officers of the committee had been designated as an administrative body. The question of headquarters for the organization, he said, was still under consideration, but would likely be Chicago, with possibly a legislative bureau at Washington.

With Frank Warner of Des Moines, secretary of the committee, Mr. Peek is working on a plan to finance the movment, the sponsors of which at their meeting yesterday endorsed the principles of the Dickinson farm surplus bill and adopted declarations, including one for the institution of a practical study of the cost of farm commodity production and distribution.

DES MOINES, Ia., Jan. 29.—(By the Associated Press.) — Machinery created yesterday by the marketing conference of delegations from the eleven middlewestern states to present demands for farm relief legislation to congress was being geared for action today.

Appointed near the close of the conference as the permanent machinery of the twelve agricultural states, the all-agricultural marketing advisory committee was in session, completing its organization.

Woman On Trial At North Platte On Arson Charge

NORTH PLATTE, Neb., Jan. 29. —(AP)—The state today started its case against Mrs. William Wolfe, held upon a charge of arson. Volunteer firemen and neighbors took the stand and told of the circumstances concerning the two fires which were reported from the Wolfe home several weeks ago, which ended in ruination of the house and Mrs. Wolfe's arrest.

Rags which were picked up in the house following the second fire were introduced in evidence and firemen testified that at the time of the fire that they smelled kerosene. A five gallon can of kerosene, partly filled, was also introduced for the state.

The state declares that its case is entirely circumstantial. The remainder of the day will be consumed by the state.

MINE BLAST CLAIMS FIVE

BLAST IN COLORADO.

TRINIDAD, Col., Jan. 29.—(By the Associated Press.)— All but six of about fifty men caught in an explosion in Mine No. 3 of the Bear Canon Coal Co., near here, today were out of the mine by noon, it was reported by Charles Beuchat, general manager of the company. About twenty-five men were burned or otherwise injured by the blast, Beauchat said.

WEST FRANKFORT, Ill., Jan. 29. —(By the Associated Press.)—Five men were killed and three slightly injured today in a local gas explosion in the new Orient coal mine here, which holds the world's eight hour production record.

The dead are: Jerry Roach, Arlie Sanders, Elijah Hindman, Floyd Kerns and Ed Tobert.

More than 1,100 men were in the mine at the time of the explosion, the cause of which could not be determined.

Safety Measures Effective.

CHICAGO, Jan. 29.—(By the Associated Press.)—Five workers were killed today in an explosion in the Orient mine, one of the largest in the world, but safety measures saved about 1,444 other miners from injury, George B. Harrington, president of the Chicago, Wilmington & Franklin Coal Co., declared after receiving advices concerning the blast.

Fire did not follow the explosion, according to advices to Mr. Harrington, whose company owns the mine.

Telegrams from the mine at West Frankfort stated that the blast was a local explosion at the face of an isolated entrance in the northwestern section of the huge workings and that the safety devices worked perfectly, shutting off that channel from the rest of the mine.

The Orient with a capacity of 12,000 tons a day, has several times broken the world's record for daily output.

"The mine had been inspected as usual as a matter of routine," said Mr. Harrington. "The mine inspector has passed through and marked off this entrance, past which marking none was supposed to go.

"How these five men, four of them gang loaders and one a brattice man, happened to pass that mark, or just what set off the explosion of gas we do not know.

"The fact that more than a thousand men were at work in other parts of the mine and escaped, indicates the true value of safety measures."

CORNHUSKER TO BEAT TIME SET

Probability That New Hotel Will Be Ready For Opening June 1.

Exterior Construction Work, Because of Mild Weather, Nearly Done.

Work is being pushed ahead on the new Cornhusker hotel with the hope that the construction work will be completely finished by June 1, two months earlier than the date originally set. The brickwork was completed Thursday, completely enclosing the eight upper stories, and the laying of the terra cotta for the two ground stories is more than half finished. It is expected that the big ten story building will be completely enclosed from the ground up within the next two weeks.

President Harry Weaver of the Lancaster Hotel company stated recently, while visiting in Lincoln, that it is expected that the new Cornhusker will be completely equipped and ready for the formal opening by about June 1.

The interior work will be under way Monday. Then lathing will be started oin the main walls. Within two weeks it is expected that work will begin on the partitioning. Plumbers are at work now setting the radiators. It has been found

WOMAN ACCUSES COURT WITNESS

Plaintiff In Divorce Trial Charges Man On Stand With Falsehood.

GRAND ISLAND, Neb., Jan. 29.—(AP)—Mrs. Frank Gimple, plaintiff in a divorce action that is being hotly contested and is bringing out several sensational charges, was placed under the custody of Sheriff Palmer from noon to 1:30 p. m., for contempt of court.

When Mrs. Gimple brought suit for failure to support, a cross petition was filed. In this the husband made severe charges. During the examination of witnesses late Thursday, it was declared that at a certain party both Mr. and Mrs. Gimple had furnished liquor. The plaintiff was in the audience with her little child and mother, and arose, loudly shouting, "He's a liar." The court rapped for order. The witness retorted "Who's a liar?" and despite the order of the court Mrs. Gimple repeated, "You are."

Court was at once adjourned. Upon reconvening Friday morning Mrs. Gimple was strongly admonished, put into custody for contempt and her attorney thanked the court for the leniency, likewise apologizing for his client.

GIRL COMPLAINS OF A FARMHAND

(Special to The Star.)

NEBRASKA CITY, Neb., Jan. 29. —A man who gave his name as Oscar Ashworth, alias Ralph McIntyre, 25, a farmhand working near Burr for the past four months, is sought by Sheriff Carl Ryder. Ashworth is alleged to have assaulted Edna Steinkahler, 13, daughter of a widow residing near Burr. He is alleged to have met the girl on the way to school and asked her to ride, stating he was on his way there.

The girl says that when they approached the school Ashworth threw a coat over her head and by threats of killing her forced her to lie in the bottom of the car to avoid being seen. He then drove to a field north of the school house and mistreated the girl, it is allaged. The child made her way home and told her mother what had happened and a merchant at Burr notified the sheriff, who was unable to get any trace of the man.

Ashworth is a stranger in these parts and had never confided to anyone anything of his past or where he came from.

NEW BUILDING CONTRACT LET

Board Of Control Makes Awards For $71,417 Of Work On Structure at Hospital For Insane Here; $28,583 Left For Extras.

CONSTRUCTION BID OF FAIRBURY FIRM WINS

A total of $71,417 will be paid to construct the new building at the Lincoln state hospital for insane which is to comprise kitchen, bakeshop, two dining rooms, and living quarters for employes, under contracts awarded Friday by the board of control covering general construction, heating and plumbing, and electric wiring.

This will leave $28,583 out of the $100,000 appropriation available for building extras and interior equipment.

As in the case of the new building for the Hastings insane hospital, for which bids were received ten days ago, keen competition was manifested and an unusually large number of propositions were submitted. There were eleven bids on the main contract, nine on heating and plumbing, and six on electrical installation.

Busboom Bros., Fairbury, got the construction contract at $55,739, the lowest figure on the list. Electric wiring also went to the low bidder, O. B. Dresback of Lincoln, at $1,625.

Favorable Sub-Bids.

On plumbing and heating, the bids were sufficiently favorable so that the board of control decided to buy some additional items on which supplemental propositions had been asked for. The board exercised its choice among various kinds of fixtures and decided that the best bid in the lot, considering quality and price together, was that of New-

COFFMAN BADLY INJURED BY CAR

Driver to Face Charge As Result Of Accident Near Depot.

Struck by a car said to have been driven on the wrong side of the street, G. F. Coffman, 67, 1317 South Twenty-sixth street, is in a serious condition at St. Elizabeth's hospital. He suffered a broken hip and severe lacerations on the head and face, according to Dr. C. L. Fahnestock.

Coffman, an engineer on the Burlington railroad, was struck late Thursday afternoon by a Ford roadster driven by W. H. Leh, 2012 Vine street, which, according to witnesses, was traveling south on the east side of Seventh street, between P and Q streets.

J. Gleason, 2511 F street, a taxi-driver who witnessed the accident, declared that Leh was driving on the east side of the cars which were parked in the middle of the street. Coffman had come across the street from the west.

The injured man was taken to St. Elizabeth's hospital in Splain and Schnell's ambulance.

Police notified Leh, the driver, to appear in municipal court Saturday morning to answer charges of driving a car on the wrong side of the street.

Coffman's condition was unchanged Friday noon. He sustained a fracture of the hip, lacerations, and possible internal injuries, according to attendants at St. Elizabeth's hospital. His injuries are regarded as dangerous because of his advanced age, Dr. Fahnestock, Burlington physician, said.

Local unions have been instructed to file schedules of wage increases next Monday and to request an answer in writing by March 2. In the event that any company seeks to present modified proposals, local unions are instructed to go into conference and to submit the final proposition to headquarters.

Railroad men here have expressed the opinion that the wage request would increase the total annual expenses of the country's railroads by $500,000,000.

Orders Issued.

Orders for the submission of schedules have been issued by W. G. Lee, president of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen and L. E. Sheppard, president of the Order of Railway Conductors.

The new wages would mean an increase of $1 to $1.50 a day over the prevailing rate for conductors, baggage men, flagmen and brakemen. Conductors receiving about $6.60 a day and $200 a month would obtain $7.75 a day and $232.50 a month.

RESIGNATION OF MITCHELL IS ACCEPTED

Air Service Officer Will Be Permitted To Step Out February 1, In Accordance With His Wishes, Secretary Davis Announces.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—(By the Associated Press.)—The resignation of Col. William Mitchell from the army has been accepted.

In accordance with his expressed wishes, the air service officer will be permitted to step out on February 1, thus automatically bringing to an end the five year suspension to which he was sentenced by a courtmartial after conviction of breaking discipline by his criticisms of the government's aviation policies.

The decision was announced in this statement by Secretary Davis of the war department:

"The secretary of war has decided that the resignation of Col. William Mitchell, air service, will be accepted, to take effect February 1, 1926. The adjutant general of the army has been notified to this effect."

DAYTON, O., Jan. 29.—(AP)—After reaching an altitude of approximately 36,000 feet, Lieut. John A. MacReady was forced to descend at 12:10 p. m., today due to the supercharger on his plane failing to function properly. The flier showed no ill effects of his experience.

DAYTON, O., Jan. 29.—(AP)—Lieut. John A. MacReady, in a specially built and equipped airplane, took off from McCook Field at 10:20, central standard time, today in an attempt to establish a new world's altitude record.

Strelow Shepherd Dog Latest Claimant of Share in Estate

A dog, a big black Shepherd, may become heir to a portion of the Charls Strelow estate. A claim in its behalf will be made when the case involving two claimants and two wills threshed out in court.

Announcement that a sum sufficient to care for the animal during the rest of its life would be asked was made Thursday by C. E. McClain, superintendent of the Lincoln Humane society. Relatives of the Denton hermits, the county judge and the attorneys representing the heirs are favorable to the suggestion, McClain says.

When the claim is filed it will ask that a sum be set aside as a contribution toward the erection of the new animal shelter to be erected, possibly during the coming summr on a site known as the Sawyer-Snell tract. The society in turn will agree to keep the dog as long as it lives.

Since Charles Strelow was brought to Lincoln November 17, the dog has been kept at the old shelter under the O street viaduct, Mr. McClain says, and will continue to live there until settlement of the litigation looming in court. Claim for boarding the animal will also be made. This already amounts to about 35, McClain declared.

URGES LICENSING WAREHOUSE MEN

U. S. Department Says Federal Act Would Prevent Big Storage Losses.

Corn growers in Nebraska are urged by the United States department of agriculture, in a report issued here Friday, to avail themselves of the opportunities presented by the enactment of the federal warehouse act.

With the present corn surplus and the possibility that grain storage will prove beneficial in the future, the advantages of properly licensed and inspected warehouses are obvious, the report says.

The warehouse law provides for the licensing and inspection of public warehouses by government officials, with a view to protecting farmers from losses due to unsound or fraudulent warehouse receipts. Licenses are secured throgh the secretary of agriculture and the warehouse and operator investigated, and a bond filed before such license is granted.

"In almost every state where agricultural products are placed in public storage, losses sometimes totaling millions are reported," the department points out. "An instance mentioned is that of a grain farmer who stored his year's crop with a warehouseman.

"He received a warehouse receipt which he sold to a grain dealer. When the dealer presented the receipt and called for delivery of the grain the warehouse was empty. The dealer fell back on the farmer from whom he bought the receipt The warehouseman was prosecuted, but that did not pay the farmer for his grain.

"A review of the storage losses for the past ten years shows that in practically all cases the losses would never have occurred had the warehouse been operated under the federal warehouse act.

"Farmers are urged by the department to prevail upon local warehousemen to become licensed. The law is not compulsory and applications must come voluntarily from warehousemen."

"Just An Ordinary Tumble," Laughs The Prince of Wales After Taking His Latest Fall

LONDON, Jan. 28.—(By the Associated Press.)—"Just an ordinary tumble, and not my neck this time," said the Prince of Wales laughingly to a friend who met him last night on his arrival in London from Leicestershire, where he broke his collarbone yesterday when he fell while riding to the hounds.

It was the fifteenth hunting accident that the prince had met with since 1920. In 1924 Wales suffered a broken collarbone by tumbling off a hunter he was training over the jumps.

All reports agree that the hurt the prince received yesterday was in no way serious. In fox hunting such falls are a common occurrence and are regarded as part of the day. It is only when the hider who comes cropper happens to be the heir to the throne of Great Britain or some other prominent personage that the public takes notice of the accident.

Accused of Over-Daring.

Lack of skill in saddle is not alleged against the prince by the sporting writers, although some times he has been accused of overdaring. It is considered likely that yesterday's tumble was due to overeagerness or lack of judgment.

It was at the end of two miles of fast running that the accident occurred. The prince's horse, like the others in the chase, was tired when it came to a high post and rail fence with a double ditch and a three foot drop on the far side. Lord Stalbridge, huntsmaster, and Major Wernher, who were riding with the prince, did not endeavor to negotiate the jump. Wales, however, put his horse at the barrier.

Horse Clears Fence.

The animal gallantly responded and cleared the fence and ditches, but fell on the far side in the drop.

Companions of the prince say that but for the drop the accident would not have occurred.

Major Wernher is quoted by the Daily Express as saying it was a nasty fence and that he believed everybody in the field except the prince refused to try it. Lord Stalbridge said to the same newspaper: "The prince rode hard throughout the run. He is a grand rider to the hounds and full of heart."

MISMANAGEMENT CHARGES FALSE

Probe Clears Burke Of Accusations Neglected The Indians.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—(By the Associated Press)—Charges of mismanagement and neglect on the part of Indian Commissioner Burke and Superintendent Walten of the five civilized tribes, were found Thursday without foundation in a partial report submitted to Secretary Work by the board of Indian commissioners.

Charges against Commissioner Burke alleging discrimination against men of Indian blood were described by the report as "purile."

"One need not go outside the limits of Oklahoma to find evidence to the exact contrary," it said. "The author of this charge and the adopted resolutions containing this particular charge was Mr. O. K. Chandler, a former superintendent of mixed blood, dismissed from the service for cause."

An Ohio Postman Now Confesses to Slaying Of Wife

Haver had told authorities Mrs. Haver ended her life by hanging herself and that he then lowered her to the well of his father's farm southeast of New Comerstown.

Haver said previous stories were not true.

"I choked her to death," he said, "and then lowered the body in the well." He told of quarrels he had with his wife.

FORMER OFFICIAL DIES.

COLUMBUS, Neb., Jan. 29.—(AP)—S. B. Allen, 80, one time county judge of Colfax county and for 20 years connected with the Platte Center Signal, later as owner, was buried at Schuyler Thursday. He died here Tuesday after four months' illness.

For Throbbing Headaches

Don't let throbbing headaches make you cross and miserable, lowering your vitality and efficiency. Physicians are prescribing a formula called A-VOL that subdues pain almost like magic, yet is absolutely harmless, because it does not depress the heart. Handy 25c packages at all druggists.

Term In Jail For Bilking Teachers

OMAHA, Jan. 29.—(AP)—J. Ray Allen, operator of an employment bureau for school teachers, in Omaha, Des Moines and Topeka, Thursday pleaded guilty to using the mails to defraud and was sentenced to six months in jail by Federal Judge Woodrough.

Allen advertised that he would find jobs for teachers who sent him a photograph and $3 "retaining fee." He was taken in Topeka in December.

NEW STANDARD SCHOOLS.

TABLE ROCK, Neb., Jan. 29.—Four school houses in Pawnee county are now displaying the "standard" plate on their buildings. The most recent to attain this distinction are the Armour school, district No. 28, and the Avondale school, district No. 10, southeast of here. Miss Hilda North is the teacher at the Armour school and Steven Stasny is in charge at Avondale.

Pioneer Planners and Builders

To Baffle Nature's Bandits

Woods Brothers Engineers Supply Patented Designs in Construction

MEN who discipline rivers—who dictate to oceans—who defy barriers of solid rock! Such are the engineers of the Woods Brothers Corporation. Jules Verne, with his fantastic imagination, could scarcely have invented a story more daring than the Engineers' chapter in the Woods Brothers' epic.

The Woods Brothers are a pioneering organization of Builders in the western empire. Their engineers first came into national prominence for their methods of river bank protection.

For years the great, greedy rivers of the Middle West had eaten into rich farm lands, swallowing whole acres of productive soil at a time. Repeated efforts to outwit the ravaging waters had failed.

And then the Woods Brothers engineers took a hand! Their slogan was, "For every problem, a solution." They created a master for the rivers—stopped their theieving.

Their creation, patented as the Standard Current Retard System, is now used on incorrigible rivers in all parts of the continent—the Missouri, Mississippi, Arkansas, Platte, Red River, Canadian and Sacramento.

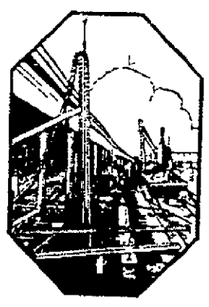

Turning their attention to ocean fronts, they were equally successful with bandit seas. They employ patented Monolithic Watertight Walls and Hydraulic Processes for Placement of Concrete Piling—patents which are regarded as engineering feats of the twentieth century.

Today, protection work installed by the Woods Brothers engineers safeguards bridges and rights of way along the routes of many of America's largest railroad lines.

They design types to meet the requirements of all situations. Because of the record of success and the extent of the operations Woods Brothers securities are among the safest on the American market. Our beautifully illustrated book—a modern business romance—tells the entire story of this great pioneering business.

For Col. Mitchell, Freedom.
Savage Evolution.
Electricity's Babyhood.
Why Rome Fell.

By Arthur Brisbane.

Colonel Mitchell resigns, leaves the army, and will do good work in private life. He can be trusted to remind this country, emphatically, that it needs flying machines

President Coolidge made friends by restoring Mitchell to half pay, with all its extra allowances, modifying the court-martial decision to that extent

He could not, because of the effect on army discipline, reverse the unpopular decision, completely

Some African savages believe that gorillas and chimpanzees can talk, but hide their knowledge, lest they be put to work

Other savages have an evolution theory of their own The Batagni, Congo natives, tell the Rev H C Graham that monkeys are descended from men that have been disgraced

"We are better and prouder than the apes," says those practical black men, 'therefore we eat them"

Samuel Insull tells the world that electricity is only beginning its work We are a little way, but not far, from the savage that fell down and worshiped an unknown malignant devil, when the lightning flashed

Railroads will soon change from steam to electric power, and that will call for 24,000,000,000 more hours of kilowatt energy, says Mr Insull Farms will be "wired" for electric light and power

Most encouraging is the prediction of Elmer Schlessinger, Louis Levy's intellectual and dashing young law partner

Elmer Schlessinger says electricity, in this century, will do for the world's troubles and debts what steam did for the world in the last century After Waterloo, Europe and the nations were called hopelessly" bankrupt In proportion their debts were greater than they are today Steam came and debts were paid with the greatest ease Instead of bankruptcy, Europe knew prosperity such as no one dreamed of It was so great that nations could not resist fighting What steam did for the last century electricity will do for this And that is no dream

Polygamy is legalized and getting a divorce is as easy as bootlegging" says Mr Hackenburg of New York's legislature, and he wants easy divorces from Paris, or Reno made illegal

Divorce and bootlegging, now so easy, simply prove that when you try to regulate human nature, you invite trouble The cat will mew and the dog will have his day"

Why did Rome fall? Hala Frisbe of the Continental Casualty company in Chicago wants to know He thinks some of our social and governmental problems are similar to those that troubled the old Romans

Read Gibbon, and all the other historians aand you wont have any definite answer It is like asking, 'Why did Methuselah finally die?' Nations rise, decline and die

Debauchery had something to do with the fall of Rome It weakened the upper classes and killed them off Malaria weakened all the people

The effort of Rome to rule creation, pouring the wealth of the world into Rome, subsidizing Roman mob idleness, had something to do with the downfall

Prudhommes statement, "Republics are ruined by wealth, monarchies by poverty, applies to Rome, both ways

The Romans made a fine art of dissipation, that helped

Rome didnt mind her own business, never really developed any business worth minding That was bad

Blonde men from the north came down They had been living hard, while Rome was living soft And soon blue-eyed kings with blonde hair, wearing furs, sat enthroned among the seven hills

And there was Christianity, spreading among the slaves, telling them that there was a better God than Jupiter, a god interested in slaves, women and children That made the slaves, and the miserably poor, dissatisfied Dissatisfaction helped the downfall

A more important question is, 'What, if anything, will cause the downfall of this glorious and prosperous republic?"

Presumably there will be no exception, and even this noble government will not exist forever

REFUSE POSTPONE VOTE ON TAX BILL

Suggestion Of Norris Rejected By Both G. O. P. And Demo Leaders.

Nebraska Senator Launches Fight at Once On Repeal Inheritance Levy.

WASHINGTON, Jan 29—(By the Associated Press)—Proposals to postpone tax reduction beyond March 15, when first tax payments on 1925 incomes are due, were rejected yesterday by both republican and democratic leaders as the senate began consideration of the revenue bill

In the course of the stormy debate, which involved a fight against the proposed repeal of the inheritance tax and publicity of income tax returns, Senator Norris, republican, Nebraska, suggested that the date of first payments be postponed until April 1, or that refunds be made later and full payments made March 15

Chairman Smoot of the finance committee, in charge of the bill promptly opposed both proposals, declaring refunds would be impossible since 2,300,000 persons would be relieved of all taxes by the bill and pointing out that the government needed the revenue by March 15 to meet $600,000,000 in short term obligations.

Senator Simmons of North Carolina, ranking democrat on the committee, supported this view, as did others of both parties who assured their support for early pasage of the bill

Norris Acts Promptly

Senator Norris lost little time in launching his fight against proposed repeal of the inheritance tax and the publicity provision during the debate He was supported on the floor by Senators Howell of Nebraska, and Lenroot of Wisconsin, republicans

Opening the debate in a speech defending provisions of the committee bill, Chairman Smoot set February 10 as the deadline for the final passage if tax reduction is to be assured by March 15

Senator Norris gave notice he would enter into no agreement along that line now and said that while he hoped it would be possible to permit tax reduction by March 15, he did not think this could be accomplished.

Repeal of the inheritance and publicity provisions occupied the center of attention in the five hours debate, although Chairman Smoot, in his address defended all tax reducing sections, which, he said, would provide a total cut of $352,661,000 this year.

Senator Norris argued that if $100,000,000 now received annually from the inheritance tax were lost, it would not aid the farmer any, and in the end might increase his burden by forcing him to meet the costs of government on a correspondingly larger scale.

DENY A HEARING TO COL. FORBES

U. S. Circuit Court Turns Down Request Pair Convicted Of Conspiracy.

CHICAGO, Jan. 29.—(By the Associated Press)—The United States Circuit Court of Appeals Thursday denied a hearing to Col. Charles R Forbes, former head of the United States veterans bureau, and John W Thompson, wealthy St Louis contractor, who were convicted on charges of defrauding the government in connection with the letting of contracts for hospitals for disabled war veterans

The action of the higher court, which previously has upheld the conviction of the two, leaves the defense only an appeal to the United States Supreme court for a review of the entire case.

They were sentenced to two years in prison each and each was fined $10,000

Forbes is reported to be seriously ill a toston and Thompson is reported ill at St Louis.

Ira Lamb Has Taught School For 48 Years

BENNET, Neb., Jan. 29.—(AP)—Superintendent Ira Lamb of the Bennet public schools has probably the longest record of continuous service of any public schol teacher in Nebraska. Mr. Lamb's teaching experienc chas extended over forty-eight years, forty-three years of which has been in Nebraska. During this period of active school work he has watched many of his former pupils grow to manhood and womonhood.

Despite his 72 years, the veteran school man is characterized by his associates as "not an old man by any means, but one who enters into the spirit of his profession with as much enthusiasm as one in early life.'

Mr. Lamb came to Nebraska in 1885 and has taught each yeaf since. He has been superintendent at Atkinson, Alma, Nelson, Papillion, Hooper, Central City, University Place, Sargent, Milford, Waterloo, and Bennet. He still continues his active study, and in recent years has attended summer school sessions at Wisconsin, Chicago and Columbia universities.

Mr. Lamb has taken an active part in State Teachers association programs in the past and is credited with doing much toward shaping present educational policy in the state. He declares that he has "never regretted his choice of the profession" and that "the privilege of working and living with young people more than compensates for the discomforts and disappointments of the profession."

Salesman For Face Cream Learns a Lesson

New York City. Mr. H. B. Menne writes:—"I was a salesman of creams for healing pimples, blemishes, etc., but when my face broke out with blotches, pimples and blackheads, I tried one salve after another with no results. I found it as impossible to sell skin creams as a bald headed man finds selling hair tonic. Finally I decided I would have to get at the cause—constipation. I was amazed to find that within a few days after taking Carter's Little Liver Pills my skin took on a new healthful look.' Druggists, 25 & 75c red packages.

Standard Bearers Guests At Feast

(Special to The Star.)

HARVARD, Neb., Jan. 29.— The women's foreign missionary society of the First Methodist church gave a banquet to the Standard Bearers of the church here. A three-course dinner, including a birthday cake with twenty-five candles served by the Mrs. John R. Yost, councilor, was partaken of by fifty on the occasion of the Standard Bearers' twenty-fifth anniversary. The following responded to Mrs. H. H. Seely's toast, "My Privilege," Misses Laura Weaver, and Florence Wing; Mrs. R. C. Seidel, Mrs. J. H. Yost. Decorations of blue and white and general planning of the affair was in the hands of Mrs. John R. Simpson.

Poison Set For Dogs at Kearney And Many Killed

(Special to The Star.)

KEARNEY, Neb., Jan. 29. — Poison, believed to have been set out by disgruntled persons, has killed more than thirty dogs in Kearney during the past six weeks, it was estimated here today.

Indignation against the long series of killings reached a climax several days ago when a fine English spaniel valued at $150, the property of Miss Eugenia Schultz, dropped dead in the front yard of the home. The spaniel had been exhibited as a prize winner in dog shows at Omaha and Chicago.

Recently a bull terrier belonging to Sheriff Sam Parr showed symptoms of poisoning, but recovered. Most of the animals killed were mongrel tramps, but many pets and watchdogs have died with the others. Strychnine or cyanide of polash seems to be the chemical composition of the poison, according to the symptoms before death. Local veterinarians in most cases have been unable to reach the animals before death occurred. Some fear is felt that the animals may drag poison into contact with small children.

Seed Corn Is Sold In Pawnee County

(Special to The Star.)

PWNEE CITY, Neb., Jan. 29.— Pawnee county seed corn will plant many acres of Nebraska farm land next spring, as a result of the sale to a seed house by C. H. Barnett of near here of 1,800 bushels of 1924 corn. The 1925 corn crop has been testing low as seed, and Barnett's hold-over corn averaged between 94 and 97 per cent. The price was $1.25 a bushel.

(Special to The Star.)

KEARNEY, Neb., Jan. 29.— Charges of assault with intent to do great bodily injury were filed here Thursday against Homer E. Scott because, according to police, Scott invited a Kearney patrolman to visit the Scott home and then threw two flat irons at the policeman.

John Metz, on duty at police headquarters Tuesday night, sensed something irregular when a voice over the telephone asked for Metz and then informed him that he was invited to the Scott home where "a party was going on." Accompanied by Ernest Reese, another policeman, Metz went to investigate.

While Reese went to look for Scott, Metz found a loaded shotgun in an automobile in front of the house, according to police. While Metz was unloading the weapon, Scott appeared and threatening the policeman's life, hurled two flat-irons at him, according to officers. He was taken to jail on a charge of intoxication, and will be heard in justice court on the state complaint filed by Hugh Drake, county attorney.

Revival Service At Wymore Ended

(Special to The Star.)

WYMORE, Neb., Jan. 29.—An unusual and enthusiastic series of revival meetings was closed Tuesday evening at the Methodist church here. The Rev. J. M. Bothwell, resident pastor, conducted the meetings, delivering 27 sermons in 26 days. He began New Years eve, preached two sermons each Sunday and one each week day evening, except Saturdays, and was going strong at the finish. One hundred and four persons went forward and professed religion, or a stronger desire to live better lives, during the the meetings, the oldest of this number being a man eighty years old. A feature of the meetings was a chorus of male voices, all local talent, and numbering at times as high as 35.

T. B. Eradication Campaign To End

(Special to The Star.)

PWNEE CITY, Neb., Jan. 29.— Pawnee county's campaign for a bovine tuberculosis inspection will end Saturday night, when petitions for the government tests will be called in and forwarded to the state department. Mission Creek precinct in the southwest part of the county reported 86 per cent of the cattle owners favoring the work, but other districts of the county are uncertain.

Debating Schedule Has Been Revised

(Special to The Star.)

GRAND Island, Neb., Jan. 29.—A recent revision of the high school interscholastic debating schedule has resulted in the following schedule being adopted for the local senior high school: Loup City, there, Feb. 17; Brown Bow, here, Feb. 24; Columbus, here, March 10; Bradshaw, there, March 17. Members of the local debating team are: Sarah Nelson, Frank Rice, Paul Candih, Dick Davis, Paul Shattuck, and Rachel Wentworth, with Pearl Wells and Grant Faimlen as alternates.

Infant Is Thrown Through Windshield

(Special to The Star.)

HUMBOLDT, Neb., Jan. 29.— The baby of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fergus was thrown through the windshield of their automobile Thursday at a crossing a short distance from their home six miles northeast of this city. The family was on the way to a neighbor's and had permitted the car of Carl Vanvleet to pass in front and then started up, not noticing a second car driven by Clyde Trimmer, which hit the Fergus car broadside. No one was seriously injured.

LEG GROUND OFF BY DRIVE CHAIN

Hasselquist ran out of gasoline and stopped at a nearby farm to obtain some. Returning, he forgot the truck had been left in gear and when he cranked it; the car started up, entangling his foot in the drive chain. The member was chewed off at the ankle between the chain and the cog wheel at the rear axle.

A neighbor witnessing the accident summoned aid, but Hasselquist was in a serious condition when reached. He suffered from loss of much blood.

Laughing

MISS OZELMA SMITH.

"For Beauty, laugh much," says an old adage. Contrariwise, being lovely makes one ready to laugh. Either way, Miss Ozelma Smith of Madras, Ga., can't help being glad of her satin textured skin, which she carefully protects with Black and White Peroxide (Vanishing) Cream. She says "An invisible film of this dainty, snowy cream prevents chapping, keeps my skin soft, smooth and lovely in all weather, and makes an ideal powder base."

Black and White Peroxide (Vanishing) Cream is one of the famous Black and White Beauty Creations, whose high quality, at the low 50c and 25c prices, cerates a demand for more than 12 million packages a year.

Best results come from using Black and White Skin Soap along with the Black and White Beauty Creations.

No Delicate Food In Kearney Jail

(Special to the Star.)

KEARNEY, Neb., Jan. 29.—To reduce the number of attractions which the Kearney city jail may hold forth to hungry transgressors, the city council has directed army rations for prisoners, instead of home cooking. The police committee is working on a new menu favoring strong coffee, hamburger, bean soup and other substantial victuals not so likely to draw inmates for the sake of getting fat during the winter.

Damages Awarded For Wreck Of Car

(Special to The Star.)

FREMONT, Neb., Jan. 29.—An eleven-man jury, one juror having been excused on account of the critical illness of his wife, found $1,200 damages in favor of Marion Smith of Fremont against Arthur Reetz of Sioux Falls, S. D., at the close of the suit for $2,800 damages that resulted from an automobile collision on the Fremont-Winslow road. Reetz claimed damages of $200 against Smith in a cross-petition.

Purcell Refiles For State Senate

State Senator E R Purcell of Broken Bow called at the secretary of state's office Friday and left his personal filing for renomination in the 23rd senatorial district, on the democratic ticket He specified "that party only" in his application, as required by the new law.

Two years ago Mr. Purcell was nominated on both the democratic and republican tickets in his district, and was elected without opposition. Under the present law he is allowed to file on only one ticket, but his name may be written in by voters of another party on their own ballot, if they so desire.

Navy Plans Spend 14 Million In Five Years on Dirigibles

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—(AP)—Navy plans for expenditure of $14,000,000 over a five period for lighter-than-air craft development were described today by Rear Admiral William A. Moffett, the naval air chief, before the house naval committee.

The money would be used for these purposes:

Two dirigibles of 6,000,000 cubic feet capacity at a cost of $4,000,000 each.

A training dirigible to cost $1,500,000

Establishment of a lighter-than-air base on the Pacific coast at a coset of $4,500,00.

The admiral also proposed to expend $1,650,000 annually for maintenance of existing lighter-than-air facilities. Of this amount $1,000,000 would be for continuance of the Lakehurst air station; $500,000 for co-operation with the bureau of mines in helium production, and $150,000 for experimental work.

Reckless Driving Charge Grows Out Of Auto Accident

Tom Baird and W. E. Johnson will appeal in Municipal court Saturday morning to answer charges of speeding and reckless driving, Captain of Detectives Walter Anderson said Friday.

The pair, who have been in custody of police since Thursday morning, are said to have been the occupants of a car which struck Mrs. Florence Snow, 221 North Nineteenth street, at Fourteenth and Belmont streets Wednesday evening, causing her serious injury.

Mrs. Snow was removed from St. Elizabeth's hospital to her home Friday morning, where she is under the care of Dr. W. H. Slattery Her mother, Mrs. Tennant, of Crab Orchard, arrived in Lincoln Friday.

Mrs. Snow is suffering from severe injury to her spinal column, concussion of the brain, and bruises according to Dr Slatery. Her condition is still dangerous, he said.

NURSES HOLDING DISTRICT MEET

Objectives of Nursing Education Topic at Friday Morning Session.

"The Objectives of Nursing Education" was the topic at the morning program of the twenty-first regular meeting of District No. 3 of the Nebraska State Nurses' association at the Lincoln hotel Friday. Nominations for officers were read at the business session preceding the program and balloting was to continue through the day. There were thirty-five present, but officers expected the number to be doubled for the afternoon, since sixty reservations had been made for the luncheon at noon.

The general topic of the morning was outlined by Miss Marguerite Hunt, principal of the school of nursing at Bailey's Sanitorium, and the discussion carried forward under divisional topics as follows:

"By Developing Skill in Nursing Practice," Miss Elizabeth E. H. Moore, superintendent of nurses, Orthodepic hospital.

"By Teaching the Scientific Principles Underlying the Skill," Miss Gertrude Warner, instructor, Lincoln General hospital.

"By the Nurture and Developing of the Spirit of Service," Helen Gumeson, instructor, Bailey's sanitorium.

Nominations Read.

The nominations read were:

For president — Miss Clara Rhodes, Beatrice; Miss Louise Murphy, Lincoln.

For directors—Miss Mary Cogil, Lincoln; Miss Cora Higgins, Lincoln.

The annual reports of the treasurer, b oard of directors, and committees on credentials, program, nurses relief fund and printing and publication were given at the morning business session.

The afternoon program was as follows:

"Economic Loss Through Defective Hearts," Dr Stanley Clements.

Woman's Appeal From Life Term Set For Hearing

Mrs. Arvesta Northey's appeal from life sentence in the penitentiary for complicity with Frank Bruner of Sargent in the poisoning of Bruner's wife is among the cases to be heard by the supreme court next Monday Mrs. Northey denies having bought tablets containing bi-chloride of mercury and given them to Bruner to administer to his wife.

The Bankers' Life Insurance Co. tax suit against the board of commissioners for Lancaster county brought up by N. M. Sommerville as appellant from the district court decision favorable to the company is set for argument Tuesday before the high tribunal.

Because of a big accumulation of cases which have been submitted to the court but not yet decided next week's sitting will run only the first three days. About 50 such cases are now pending for decision and the judges wish to catch up with them before taking on any more. They will hear 15 cases on Monday Tuesday and Wednesday putting in the rest of the week in consultations and preparing opinions.

The commission will follow its usual program of sitting the first three days, each division hearing 5 cases a day, and working in chambers the rest of the time

Retailers Plan To Tour Europe

The Federation of Nebraska Retailers is arranging a European tour, in co-operation with other state associations of the middle west, for members and their families this summer.

Starting June 26 from Montreal on the ship "Regina," the trevalers will reach Liverpool July 4 and then visit England, Holland, Belgium, Alsace-Lorraine, Switzerland, Italy and France before returning to New York, August 23. Most of the expenses will be paid under a one price arrangement.

Secretary C. W. Watson of Lincoln, an officer of the retailers' federation, is in charge of the Nebraska group.

Says Hubby Left When She Refused Drink and Smoke

CHICAGO, Jan. 29.—(AP)—Because she refused to drink and could not learn to smoke cigarets, her husband abused her, called her a poor sport and left her, Mrs. Mayme N. Isbell, wife of a wealthy broker, charges in her divorce bill. She charged that her husband told her the perfect wife does these things.

They were married in 1910 and have two children.

YANKTON BRIDGE IS MONEY MAKER

Talk Is Revived On Nebraska-South Dakota Railroad Line.

(Special to The Star.)

YANKTON, S. D., Jan. 29.—At the annual meeting of members of the Meridian Highway Bridge company held here a report of the expenses and tolls during the first year of the operation of the bridge showed a net profit of over $8,000. The capital stock of the company is listed at $823,325, the assets are estimated at $1,176,174 which includes the valuation of the bridge property, amounting to $1,169,000, and the amount received from bridge tolls during 1925 was $62,478.

It was the consensus of opinion of the members of the organization that the bonds should be retired before any dividends on the stock are declared. The change in the rate of toll will depend on the yearly income earned and will be maintained to assure as large an income as was earned the first year of the bridge's operation.

The following officers were elected for the coming year: D. B. Gurney, president; M. P. Ahlman, vice president; E. J. Dowling, treasurer; and M. R. Magner, secretary.

A movement of great importance and interest to farmers, produce men and other shippers is the effort that is being made at present to connect southeast South Dakota with northeast Nebraska by means of a railroad, which probably would extend from Wynot or Hartington in Nebraska to Yankton, using the Meridian highway bridge to cross the Missouri river.

CLAIM AGAINST STATE DENIED

Joseph Pickus, Contractor, Loses Suit For $4,000 In District Court.

Joseph Pickus' claim against the state of Nebraska for about $4,000 was thrown out of court by District Judge Wheeler Thursday afternoon, when he ruled that the contract clause on which the claim was based did not cover as much ground as was asserted.

He sustained the defendant's motion for a directed verdict and the jury, which had listened to the reading of testimony offered at a previous trial of the same case, was dismissed

Mr. Pickus contracted in 1921 for a $22,000 bridge. The contract contained a clause concerning gravel to be obtained by long haul or from other than local pits. Judge Wheeler decided this clause did not mean the state would have to pay extra for such gravel, if the local material did not prove satisfactory, but that the contractor would have the option of refusing to carry out the agreement under such circumstances.

Fair Return Plan Is Formulated By Livestock Men

CHICAGO, Jan. 29.—(AP)—A program to assure the American farmer a fair return on his livestock was formulated and put in motion here yesterday by the National Livestock Producers' associationl, following a two day session of discussion.

The association voted the maintenance of an organization which will keep the farmer supplied with accurate information as to supply and demand as a means toward stabilization of prices. The products will be marketed through co-operative organization and possibly on a direct producers-to-packers plan.

A committee was authorized to study the direct sale plan in the marketing of hogs, to determine whether such a method will reduce the cash returns to producers.

SUNDE BUILDING ALIBI AS DEFENSE

Relatives of Iowa Youth, Charged With Murder Of Watchman, Testify.

LOGAN, Ia., Jan. 29.—(By the Associated Press)—The defense in the first degree murder trial of Alfred Sunde, who is charged with the murder of John Armstrong, Logan night watchman, Thursday continued to bolster its alibi plea through the testimony of Sunde, his wife, aged father and mother and others said to be familiar with his activities the day and night of the murder.

Armstrong was shot and fatally wounded early on the morning of last December 14, when he attempted to capture a robbr band that invaded Logan. Sunde was arrested the next day and accused of the shooting.

In his testimony yesterday, Sunde said he was not near or at Logan on the night of December 13 or the morning of December 14, but that he was at his home in Sioux City.

Sunde was followed to the stand by his aged father, Lars Sunde, 71, who, despite his illnss with pneumonia, was determined to testify. The elder Sunde became excited at the start of his testimony and almost collapsed. He was carried back to a Logan hotel, where he had been receiving treatment for some time.

The defendant's mother then testified in defense of her boy and said Alfred was at home the night and morning of the shooting. Her testimony was corroborated by the defendant's wife of four months and by two others, a boy and girl, who said the shotgun shells found in Sunde's car at the time of his arrest were left in the car following a rabbit hunt

Spaniard Ready to Fly Over Atlantic To Brazilian Port

He already has lightened the load of the plane by sending his observer to Pernambuco on a torpedo boat destroyer, which left here yesterday

The commander is confident that he will make the jump of more than 1,700 miles to Pernambuco direct, but all arrangements have been made for the plane to come down at Fernando Do Noronha. 1,430 distant, in case there is a shortage of fuel.

FLORIDA'S BOOM REACHES ZENITH

Bickford Thinks Development Will Now Go On In Orderly Way.

Housing Facilities Fail To Keep Pace With Influx Of People.

There are five years of work ahead in the new development projects in Florida if they ever hope to be able to properly take care of the present population, in the opinion of R. A. Bickford, Lincoln real estate dealer who recently returned from a tour of Florida's boom sections. So many people have flocked to the eastern coast of Florida since the boom has been on that it is practically impossible to take care of them, he said.

Describing the housing conditions in those sections which he visited along the east coast, Mr Bickford told of thousands of people who living in tents, put up anywhere and everywhere to afford a temporary shelter. "I know of one case personality, where a family paid $5 a day for the use of the porch of one of the houses Hotels and rooming houses are filled to more than capacity. The prices are unbelievably high, commonly ranging from $6 a day on up to almost any price. In those sections where the development is at the highest peak, the cities bear a resemblance to a street fair Everything is in a feverish state of excitement. It is certainly no place to rest," declared Mr. Bickford.

Boom Reaches Peak.

The boom has apparently reached its peak in most parts of the state and in Mr Bickford's opinion is likely to decline from now on, taking the course of steady development and finally returning to normal. However those who are actively interested in the development projects are confidently looking forward to an increasing business in March. The boom apparently reached its peak about last October and since them there has been a lull, if the maddening whirl that was so evident during his visit can be called a lull, Mr. Bickford said.

Speaking of the actual development projects, Mr Bickford described them as amazing. The land that is being used is apparently the most undesirable in the entire state Much of it is low and marshy and is covered with heavy underbrush Lots that are selling for $2,500 and on up are often plots of brush-covered marsh land that has not even been cleared. In many instances it has merely been marked off in lots and sold as it stands. The sale has been so rapid that no attempt has been made to improve it.

In other instances there has been more careful development, and water, light and sewerage conveniences have been installed, buildings have been built and paving laid Where improvements have been made, they have often been of a very unsubstantial character, in the opinion of Mr Bickford, and in many instances will have to be entirely reconstructed within the next ten years.

Substantial Development.

The Hollywood and Coral Gables projects are not of this haphazard type. They are very substantial looking projects and appear to have a bright future ahead of them. They are beautifully plotted and the residence districts are carefully divided into restricted districts of various kinds

In no place do the prices that are being asked for the land seem justifiable in Mr Bickford's opinion. They are extremely high, beyond anything that can be conceived by Nebraskans Lots are being sold on nearly any amount of down payments.

The marshy lands that are being sold for residence sites often resemble a Venice with their canals Great ditches are dug through this low land in such a manner that they resemble streets The earth that is taken out is piled up along the sides and leveled off. It is along these canals or ditches that the residence sites are located. These water front lots are among the most popular projects

Sanitation Problem.

Sanitation is the greatest problem of the country, in the opinion of Mr. Bickford. The low marshy land is difficult to drain.

Mr. Bickford was far more attracted by the west coast cities. The conditions there are every bit as good if not better than those of the sections that are being developed. The only reason there has not been a boom on the west coast is because it has not been pushed, he believes It is very noticeable that the people who own property and are settled in other parts of Florida are not greatly moved by the east coast development. Generally they are remaining in their own localities.

Mr. Bickford is of the opinion that Florida has not yet touched or realized her most valuable resources. These lie in agricultural development he believes and will become important in time. Agriculture is still in an experimental stage there.

Poster Girl

MISS HELEN LEWIS

Falling in love with a Red Cross "poster girl," Rudolph Raymondi came to New York from his home in Italy, finally learning the girl's name His frequent telephone calls annoyed her and she had him arrested. She is Mrs. Helen Lewis and relented when Rudolph promised not to annoy her any more.

Mrs. Mary Martin

Davenport, Iowa—"Before my baby came I took half a dozen bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and I cannot praise it too highly for the benefit I derived from it. I received strength and courage and there was a wonderful improvement in my general health. After my baby arrived I regained my normal strength in a remarkably short time, and have felt better ever since than I ever did. Also a stout healthy baby is a great joy to a mother"—Mrs. Mary Martin, 321 Brown St.

IF RHEUMATIC EAT NO SWEETS

Rheumatism is easier to avoid than to cure, states a well-known authority. We are advised to dress warmly, keep the feet dry, avoid exposure, and above all, drink plenty of good water and avoid eating sweets of all kinds

Rheumatism is caused by body waste and acids resulting from food fermentation. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this poison from the blood and cast it out in the urine; the pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly cold weather the skin pores are closed, thus forcing the kidneys to do double work; they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate this waste and acids, which keeps accumulating and circulating all through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles, causing stiffness, soreness and pain, called rheumatism

At the first twinge of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week This is helpful to neutralize acidity, remove waste matter, also to stimulate the kidneys, thus often ridding the blood of rheumatic poison.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism.—Advertisement.

Two Girls Live On Hot Water and Rice

Because both had stomach trouble, Ardena Howard and her sister-in-law tried living on hot water and rice. Then they heard of the mixture of buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc. (known as Adlerika) and after a short treatment they can eat anything and feel fine.

Many people keep the OUTSIDE body clean but let their INSIDE body stay full of gas and poisons Give the inside a REAL cleansing with the mixture of buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., as sold under the name of Adlerika. This acts on BOTH upper and lower bowel, eliminates mutabolic poisons and removes old matter which you never thought was in your system, and which caused sour stomach, nervousness, sleeplessness, headache etc

Whenever you eat too much heavy food, let Adlerika REMOVE the undigested surplus and leave you feeling fine One spoonful relieves GAS and takes away that full, bloated feeling. Even if your bowels move every day, Adlerika brings out much additional matter which might cause trouble Don't waste time with pills or tablets but let Adlerika give your stomach and bowels QUICK relief

What Doctors Say.

Dr. G Eggers reports Adlerika is the best medicine he has used in 37 years

Dr. W. H. Bernhart writes he could not get along in his practice without Adlerika

Dr. J. J. Weaver, a doctor for 50 years, says he knows no medicine better than Adlerika.

Dr. L Langiois prescribes Adlerika regularly with GOOD EFFECT.

J. E. Puckett writes: "After using Adlerika I feel better than for 20 years AWFUL impurities were eliminated from my system!"

Adlerika is a big surprise to people who have used only ordinary bowel and stomach medicines because of its REAL and quick action. Sold by leading druggists everywhere in Lincoln by Harley Drug Co and other leading druggists—Advertisement.

School for Deaf At Omaha Oldest Of Kind In State

On examining the records the board of control finds that the School of Deaf at Omaha is Nebraska's oldest state institution of the charitable class, having been established 56 years ago, in 1870. During that time 1,129 deaf children have received instruction there, of whom 181 have passed through all the grades and received diplomas. There are now thirteen grades. Instruction is chiefly by the oral method, only minor attention being given to the old time sign language formerly in common use. The enrollment this year is 178.

At the Home for Dependent Children, Lincoln, the average population is 100; and during the biennium ended June 30, last, 330 boys and girls were placed from that institution in private homes. Five times as many applications are received for girls as for boys Red-headed, freckled-faced boys have a hard time getting anybody to take them in, but occasionally somebody specifies that particular variety.

The Beatrice institute for feebleminded has 864 enrolled, the largest in its history. Of these, 815 are actually at the institution, 49 others being on parole or vacation with relatives.

At the Geneva training school for girls, the attendance has also broken the record, with 235 inmates at present.

Briefly Told News From The Wires

PEKING—(AP)—The soviet consul general at Harbin, Manchuria, telegraphed yesterday to L. M. Karakhan, the soviet ambassador to China, complaining that Gen. Chang Huan-Hsing, Marshal Chang Tso-Lin's subordinate in that district, has instituted a reign of terror among the soviet citizens in Harbin. The consul reports that seventy Russian youths have been arrested by the Chinese military in connection with the murder of a "white" Russian two weeks ago and are being detained under terrible conditions and are even undergoing torture

MOSCOW—(AP)—Leon Trotsky, at his own request, has been relieved of his post as head of the state electrical department. He retains the chairmanship of the concessions committee.

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Government purchase of wheat at a price between $1.50 and $2 was advocated in the house yesterday by Representative Little, democrat, Kansas, as a means of preventing speculative wheat buying.

VANCOUVER, B. C.—(AP)—A storm in the north Pacific ocean, like one which has been raging on the Atlantic, was forecast by weather experts here Thursday. Shipping off British Columbia was warned to prepare to battle with gales which were rapidly spreading from the mid-Pacific where vessels had been wallowing two days.

ROME—(AP)—Italy has declared war against jazz dancing of that variety known as "wicked hip shaking." As a consequence, raids on dance halls in all the cities are frequent. Similar raids have been carried out in Bologna and Leghorn.

VIENNA—(AP)—Four passengers were shot and killed by a Macedonian bandit who Tuesday waylaid a motor bus between Monastir, southern Jugo-Slavia, and Lezean, said a dispatch from Belgrade Thursday.

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Secretary Jardine will confer next week with officials of the National Board of Farm Organizations, who are to be in Washington for their mid-winter meeting. It is expected the Dickinson farm surplus bill will occupy a large share in the discussion.

COMBATTING PATERNALISM

A nationwide campaign has been opened to restore Jeffersonian principles in government.

It is a subject which has attracted much attention in recent months. It is a cause which may well attract thoughtful citizens in all sections of the country. This business of rescuing government from the paternalistic mess into which it has been plunged in the last quarter of a century is the most important consideration before the American people. Jefferson glorified the individual in the scheme of government. The path which we have been following has placed him under a hundred restraints and has sought to fashion his life by legislative mould. Unless these paternalistic tendencies of government are halted and curbed, individualism will cease to be the dynamic force which it has been in the life of the people of this country.

Just how potently the Jeffersonian theory of government has contributed to the well-being and prosperity of the American people is impossible to estimate. In other ages it is imaginable that nations and peoples possessed natural resources fully as rich as those committed to the care of America. Yet no nation ever approached the wealth of these United States. Few have revealed an equal advancement in all lines of industry and business. In very few has the individual citizen had the opportunities for the enjoyment of life. Perhaps a portion of the credit for America's fortunate estate should be given to those fundamental principles of government which were crystalized in the minds of Jefferson and his associates and which provided the basis for the organized law of this country.

The Thomas Jefferson league has filed articles of incorporation in Washington, with a distinguished list of American citizens as its charter members. Three of its objectives so effectively state the case against paternalistic government that they command attention:

1.—Reiteration and application of the fundamental principles upon which the federal government was established, and without which the Federal Union could not have been created; that is to say Freedom of Worship, Freedom of Speech and of the Press; Right of Petition; Right of Peaceable Assembly; Protection against Unreasonable Searches and Seizures and against Confiscation of Property without Due Process of Law; Protection against Double Jeopardy; Right of Speedy and Impartial Trial by Jury; Reservation by the States of All Power Not Delegated to the Federal Government.

2.—Condemnation of and resolute opposition to any and every attempt to impose religious tests in the election or selection of any public official, federal, state or municipal.

3.—Opposition to federal paternalism and federal bureaucracy under whatever guise.

No organization can serve a more glorious cause than to rid government of bureaucracy and paternalism. Once it securely fastens itself upon a people it methodically sets about to expand its power. It expands its activities and seizes power not originally contemplated in its creation. That has been the history of this country and in every government where it has been permitted to gain a foothold.

NEWS OF INTEREST TO FARMERS.

There were other things of interest to the farmers of Nebraska in the news Thursday than those which came from Des Moines, one item being to the effect that the receipts of hogs at the South Omaha market for the current month would be one-third less than for January, 1925. It was pointed out in this connection that many farmers who had previously been in the habit of shipping their porkers to market are, on account of the low price of corn, keeping them on the farm and feeding them in preference to selling them.

This is of course an indication that the farmers are in such financial position that they are able to follow their own judgment and inclination in such a matter and are compelled to unload neither their corn nor their hogs until they are satisfied with the prices they are able to obtain for them.

It is altogether probable that were the farmers of Iowa in like position the Des Moines conference would not be now in progress, with Nebraskans lending their aid and support to the Hawkeye demonstration. Nebraska agriculturists and Nebraska banks are able to take care of the situation in this state and to finance their operations on legitimate, business basis. This fact is being more clearly demonstrated every day.

Another item of interest came from Chadron, where a regional corn, poultry and potato show has been in progress. It told of the experience of Guy McCoy of Belmont, who from a flock of 400 chickens realized a profit of $2.39 per hen between November, 1924, and August, 1925. In addition he marketed 430 birds and notwithstanding the fact that poultry was but a side line with him he realized a profit of $1,616 during the period. Nice side line!

The last item mentioned reveals one of the reasons why the Nebraska farmer is able, if he so desires, to hold his hogs and feed his corn to them. But there are many other reasons. Like most other Nebraska farmers Mr. McCoy did not put all of his eggs in one basket. He probably milks dairy cows and does other things beside raising corn, or wheat or both of them. It may be that he owns stock in a co-operative dairy, one of which, located in this state, last year paid a dividend of 70 per cent to its stockholders.

But no matter how many of these things he does or does not do, it is certain that when he deposits his money in a Nebraska bank he is sure of getting it out again without delay, no matter what becomes of the bank. So the banks have deposits and in consequence have money to loan to the man who wants to hold his hogs or corn, providing, of course, he needs it.

There's a lesson in almost every item of news, providing one is disposed to analyze it.

HEADING OFF POLITICAL DEALS.

If political parties were the personal property of a few men, for them to do with as they chose, it would be perfectly in order for the chairman of the progressive state committee to disband that party and hand its voters over to another political organization. Such deals, however, are out of harmony with the theory that parties belong to the voters themselves and exist only as agencies for carrying out the will of the people composing them.

Secretary of State Pool is quite right in refusing to sanction the proposed chloroforming of the progressive party, which polled 25,000 votes on the head of the state ticket two years ago. Not that there is any need of it as a factor in state affairs, or that it has made any real contribution to good government in Nebraska. But the laws are intended to protect any group of voters in their right to organize by themselves and place candidates in the field if they see fit. This protection extends to members of the progressive party, as well as to republicans, democrats, and La Follette independents.

It used to be quite a habit in certain political circles of this state for individuals officially representing one organization to make deals with those of another, whereby the former helped the latter to win elections and were recompensed by being given lucrative jobs, or otherwise. Sometimes the modus operandi was through "fusion," whereby candidates were able to get themselves nominated on two or more tickets. At other times, the object in view was to prevent "fusion" between two parties so that the candidates on another ticket would have a better chance of election.

The 35,000 progressive votes cast in 1924 will probably dwindle in this year's election to a much smaller number. Naturally, the old party managers would like to corral as many of these votes for their respective tickets as possible. It seems rather incongruous, however, for the chairman of the progressive party to be advocating disbandment at this time and trying to herd his entire flock into another political corral.

That there should be robust objections to this program from the rank and file of the third party is not surprising. The people in that organization have been independent enough in the past to forsake their former affiliations. They do not take kindly to the idea of being bound up and delivered by one of their leaders to any other organization. If the progressive party is going out of business, they want the privilege at least of deciding individually for themselves where they will go.

This year's primaries and general election will determine whether there is sufficient interest in the progressive party to keep it alive. Should its candidates fail to poll 5 per cent of the total vote in the November election, its legal status will be lost. That is the best way to find out whether the voters themselves want the party to continue. It is not for one politician, or any number of them, to say. The politicians will have to grind their axes on some other wheel.

COLONEL MITCHELL'S MARTYRDOM.

Colonel Mitchell wisely decided to resign from the army rather than accept the verdict of the court martial which heard his case and the president, who reviewed the findings. Few men of spirit would care to subject themselves to the humiliating position in which it placed him—half in and half out, with an allowance of half pay and certain living expenses provided he did not agan provoke. He leaves the army free and unhobbled of tongue or pen to express himself as he sees fit on the subject dearest to his heart.

No doubt he will frequently be invited to write and to speak at profit to himself. It is extremely probable that Colonel Mitchell will be put forward by some political party as a candidate for office. Hints have already been dropped he may seek a place in congress.

In any event Colonel Mitchell will be hard put to avert making himself a public nuisance instead of filling the role which he so efficiently carried out heretofore—that of a courageous, able and high-minded army officer. The span between propagandist, zealot, reformationist and "nuisance" is very slight. Most of them are generally inclined to take themselves too seriously. Mitchell has shown on a score of occasions he lacks a sense of humor and it would not be surprising if in his private capacity he should make the same mistakes which cost him his fight in the army. It all rests with the colonel. He can make his "martyrdom" a real force in securing some reforms in army and navy affairs, which over a half of the people of this country believe to be most desirable, or he can make himself so thoroughly unpopular as to sacrifice his cause.

SPECIAL INSURANCE TAXES.

A bulletin issued by the United States Chamber of Commerce directs attention to the fact that insurance companies doing business in this state were required to pay $453,964.66 in special tax assessments in addition to the program tax assessments. No exception should be taken to the statement unless it should give rise to the inference that Nebraska was treating her insurance interests harshly and unfairly.

As a matter of fact Nebraska collected $467,899.81 in special insurance taxes in that year. After paying all expenses of inspection by the state department, there still remained $454,707.20 which went into the general fund. But Nebraska was no aggressor in this particular. There were but fifteen states out of the forty-nine which collected less from the insurance companies. Thirty-two of them collected a much larger aggregate tax than Nebraska. In the nation special state insurance taxes totaled $67,731,570.46, an increase of $8,000,000 over the year previous.

It is not difficult to understand why insurance companies have been subjected to special forms of taxation. There is no business more difficult to properly appraise and assess at its real worth. In this state 70 percent of the special and surplus forms the basis of valuation for the regular tax. In addition the insurance companies pay 2 percent on the gross premiums. Presumably this tax is levied to cover the cost of state examination. Actually it yields a much larger revenue than is needed for this purpose. But what might be said in this particular might also be advanced with equal force in the instance of at least a half a dozen lines of business and industry.

The most disturbing reflection in connection with these special insurance taxes comes with the knowledge they represent another form of indirect taxation which is eventually passed on to the public. The insurance companies do not pay these special taxes out of their earnings. They are borne by the policyholders. Today insurance represents the savings of thousands of business men. It is evident these special increasingly burdensome taxes levied by the different states fall very largely upon the savings of the American people.

More Truth Than Poetry.

THE DAY IN HISTORY.

Twenty years ago today
Teddy sat where Cal is sitting:
Often from that chair he jumped;
With a heavy stick he bumped
Any head that seemed worth hitting.
Volstead had not risen then
To amend the constitution:
Flasks were needless at that time,
And it wasn't any crime
To believe in Evolution.

Thirty years ago today.
Much was said concerning Grover:
People could then use their feet
When they wished to cross the street,
Many men got safely over.
Doug and Mary were unknown,
Handsome Rudolf wasn't sheiking:
People didn't turn to stare
When a package, here or there,
Was discovered to be leaking.

Forty years ago today
There was not an airman flying:
Whiskers were in fashion still,
And the useful dollar-bill
Did a dollar's worth of buying.
Things were quiet in Detroit,
Bustling birthplace of the flivver:
Men had no occasion then
To be sly or fearful when Bringing stuff across the river.

Fifty years ago today
Politics was full of puddles,
But there wasn't any fuss
Made in efforts to get us
Into European muddles.
Liberty was not repressed
By the espionage that rankles,
And, oh, gosh, how eyes were rolled
When a brazen thing and bold
Dared to show a pair of ankles!

Diet and Health

By Lulu Hunt Peters, M.D.

Author of "Diet and Health" and "Diet for Children"

PRECAUTIONS WHILE REDUCING.

My dear Reading Class:

Tomorrow ends the series on reducing weight. If you have been faithful, you have lost at least ten pounds of your excess, and you are feeling 100 percent better in every way. You are so happy that you feel like accosting every overweight person you see and telling him that it is unnecessary to be so burdened.

While it might prove embarrassing to do that to strangers, you can pass the joyful news to your friends.

If the thousands all over the country who have been following this class work, will do that, we will have started such a tremendous force for the betterment of the health, looks and efficiency of our people that in a short time it will be a rarity to see an overweight individual, and we will not be accused of being a nation of over-eaters.

As I have told you, I am not going to desert you. I shall write frequently on reducing. There is probably nothing I can do as a Public Health Educator of more value. Meanwhile, heed these precautions

Precautions:

1—Don't lose more than two pounds a week after the first loss.
2—After a loss of 40 or 50 pounds, it is wise to rest two weeks. Go back to your maintenance diet, but don't gain. Begin your diet again for your further reduction.
3—Don't make a practice of taking physics. Don't, I beg of you, take any reducing medicines, except under the supervision of your physician. They are extremely dangerous, and you don't need them.
4—Don't so overeat at one meal that you undo the work it has taken you three days to accomplish. If you do that little stunt, miss your next meal. Don't loiter in the vicinity of pastry and candy! Is there anything more tragic than a fat person looking in a candy window?
5—Don't be discouraged if you sometimes register a gain even after dieting well. It is probably due to a retention of water. Eat very little salt.
6—Don't imagine that after reducing you are going to be able to overeat and get away with it. You won't have to diet nearly so strenuously, but you will always have to be careful. Watch your weight.
7—Don't taste. The second taste is much harder to resist than the first. Don't taste. One taste follows another.
8—If a cold should attack you, better go back to your maintenance diet, but don't gain.
9—Don't give up, if you fall from caloric grace and gain occasionally. It is better to have lost than gained than never to have lost at all.
10—Be sure to get your daily allowance of vitamins, mineral elements and protein. (The foundation diet I gave you will safeguard them.)

WATCH YOUR WEIGHT!

Promises:

I promise that if you follow my directions and reduce as I have directed:
1—Better health. Much better health.
2—Increased efficiency and strength. One hundred fold.
3—Better dispositions. Fat people are not good natured. They are apathetic
4—Better looks. Clearer skin. No matter how you look during the process when you are reduced your looks will be improved. 500 fold. And younger, lots younger!
5—A reorganization of your mode of living. A cure of your habit of unnatural craving for large amounts of concentrated foods, with the creation of a new natural appetite for wholesome foods.

Tomorrow—The Weight Chart.

My dear Followers:

When sending for material which we offer you, please remember to enclose a STAMPED, SELF-ADDRESSED envelope bearing your full name and address. The pamphlet on reducing and gaining is the only one for which you must enclose TEN cents in stamps extra. Address your letters to me in care of this paper. Make them as brief as possible, NOT OVER 200 WORDS, and type or write them legibly with ink. Please sign your name as evidence of good faith—we will not use it in any way. Remember it is impossible for me to diagnose for you or to answer you personally. I appreciate very much the beautiful letters you send me and regret it is impossible to give you individual advice. The questions you ask will be answered in the column as soon as possible, if they are of general interest. Don't forget the STAMPED, SELF-ADDRESSED ENVELOPE if you expect me to send you the information I have offered.

Painleve Can't Stop the Earth

BY GARRETT P. SERVISS.
Noted Astronomer and Writer on Scientific Topics of Popular Interest.

A reader declares himself to be greatly puzzled and upset in mind by a printed dispatch from Paris of which he sends me a copy, the most significant portion of which I here reproduce:

"A new theory of relativity is announced by Professor Paul Plainleve, former Premier and noted mathematician, who says: 'My work is to be attempted to reconcile the old school springing from Newston's theory of gravitation with the new school emerging from Einstein's theory.

"'Under the old teachings it was explained that the world turned on its axis, and in space. Of course, this is mere talk for children; no such thing occurs, but such explanation must be given so the ignorant can have a mental picture of what the universe is like. Neither the earth nor the stars whirl in space.'"

It is no wonder that a serious reader's mind is upset by such a statement! It is a great pity for the sake of popular education that it was ever made, especially coming from a man of Plainleve's reputation. A bull in a china shop does a great deal of damage and no good at all.

M. Plainleve might as reasonably step out into the center of a schoolroom and lifting his hand, exclaim, with an air of finality: "Boys and girls, your teachers are fooling you with bunk. You don't know anything, nor they either. Herr Einstein and I have satisfied ourselves that nothing is what it seems to be: space is only relative, and time is only relative, and motion is only relative, and the earth doesn't turn, and the planets don't revolve, and anybody who believes such stuff is a fool. I defy you to prove that your right hand isn't your left hand, that up is is down, or that in isn't out. You're wasting your time here."

Those who care to give a second thought to the matter should remark that, in the dispatch, M. Painleve says that the earth doesn't turn, and the stars do not whirl, "in space." These words, which he repeats, should be emphasized in order to get at his real meaning, which is based upon the relativist's conception of the nature of space and motion. But this, however interesting, is of no more practical importance than the metaphysical notion that the outside world has no reality, being only a reflection of mental states.

The earth does turn, the planets do revolve, the stars do "whirl" in the only kind of space that the human mind can clearly conceive of. If I, standing in the center of a room, turn round on my heel, I do rotate in space, and it is not the same as if I remained motionless and the room revolved around me, although for certain mathecatical purposes it may be treated as the same. The conception of space involved in this illustration is perfectly clear and definite, and everybody understands it.

It is true that we speak "in a Pickwician sense" of the moon revolving around the earth, for we know that both earth and moon, being together in motion around the sun, the moon's real path in space is an undulating course around the sun, which carries it now ahead of and now behind the earth, and now on one side and now on the other, the mathematical result, from a terrestial viewpoint, being the same as if the earth stood still and the moon revolved around it in a close orbit.

We also speak of the sun traveling daily around the earth, rising in the east and setting in the west, and that answers perfectly well for mathemical purposes, but for physical reasons we know that the real motion must be a rotation of the earth the other way on its axis. So when we say that the sun travels once a year around the sky mathematics is well enough satisfied, but again there are physical reasons why the real motion must be that of the earth around the sun.

One can complicate these relativities to his heart's content, but no one will ever be able, while remaining in our present state of being, to live on metaphysics whether it offers itself under its own name, or masquerades in that of mathematics.

The Einsteinians are still very anxious about the three slender and doubtful legs of physical verification, on which they nevertheless stoutly affirm that their theory triumphantly stands. The predicament recalls that of a "daddy-long legs" described in Belt's "Naturalist in Nicaragua," which being caught in the midst of a marching column of ferocious ants kept only three of its eight stilts on the ground and changed them as rapidly as possible.

PEACHES AND PERSIMMONS

If only we had saved a bit of anthracite to show the children.

There aren't too many broadcasting stations; the trouble is too many rotten programs.

He isn't really a chronic invalid unless he thinks he knows more than the doctor.

The clothiers still make those snappy things for young fellows. The only difference is that the old boys buy them.

Even college doesn't teach them anything, it keeps them from bragging about being self made.

Well, Mr. Hoover, rotten weather is doing its best to conserve the rubber supply.

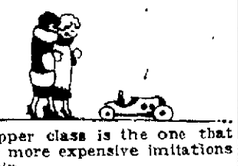

Well, perhaps the pedestrian should have a pistol to protect himself but how could he use it with both hands aloft?

It is hard to remember when you were a boy, and even harder to remember if you're a boy.

Home is a place where somebody calls you "an old dear" and somebody else calls you "dad."

You'll notice that the advocates of common sense seldom give the opposition credit for any.

Some people don't get divorced for years, and some learn all about one another more quickly.

Correct this sentence: "Our little Mabel has a wonderful voice," said she, "but we never ask her to sing for guests."

The old-fashioned boy may not have respected his dad more, but at least he respected the hickory.

Here and There

(Cleveland Plain Dealer.)

Political horse play does not go with President Field Marshal Paul von Beneckendorff und von Hindenburg. For six weeks the German republic struggled along without a government. In Germany as in France the multiplicity of political parties greatly complicates the business of administration. To gain a majority support in the reichstag it is necessary for a chancellor to establish a bloc, and durable blocs in either Germany or France are difficult to construct. Doctor Luther resigned after he had compelled the reichstag to ratify the Locarno treaties. President Hindenburg immediately commissioned Luther to make up a new government. For six weeks the former chancellor has tried to effect this or that combination, but always the party leaders have demanded the impossible, and the task began to appear hopeless.

Then President Hindenburg summoned Luther and all the party leaders to the executive mansion, banged his fist on the mahogany, and said:

"Do it!"

And at once the politicians did it.

If they had not done it they would have forthwith ceased to be politicians for in direct language Hindenburg announced that the choice lay between establishing a constitutional government at once or submitting to a dictatorship. Under a dictatorship politicians are nil. And so a government was formed.

France needs a Hindenburg.

Brookhart and Steck.

(Indianapolis News.)

It is reported that a sub-committee of the senate elections committee, which has been recounting the vote Iowa cast in 1924, has decided unanimously that Daniel F. Steck, and not Smith W. Brookhart got the certificate of election. There were charges and counter-charges. Votes were counted for Brookhart that should not have been counted, it was said, and votes were not counted for Steck that he was entitled to. Now, if press reports are borne out, the view of the sub-committee will be that, even though Brookhart received all that he claims, Steck is ahead of him by fifty-seven votes.

If the report is as indicated, the senate's approval will mean Brookhart's departure. His steps would probably be followed with anxious eyes by Senator Cummins. He, too, is from Iowa, and is a candidate for renomination at a primary this spring. Brookhart might contest with him for that nomination. Cummins not always has been as popular with the farmers as he might have been. Brookhart lost their ears somewhat in 1924, but he retained a considerable agricultural following.

Big Hog Shortage Looms.

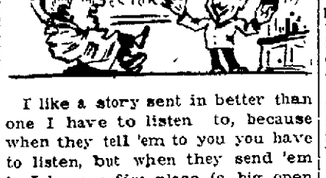

(St. Joe News-Press.)

The country is facing a serious hog shortage. While famine conditions may not prevail, the pork chop in the near future promises to line up with the potato and the anthracite lump. St. Joseph for nineteen days this month is around 60,000 hogs short, as compared with a similar period in 1925. At the five leading markets for the same period there is a decrease of close to 500,000 hogs, as compared with receipts a year ago. At all Western packing centers since Nov. 2, 1925, up to Jan. 1, 1926, there has been a shortage compared with the same time a year ago, according to a summary made by The Drovers' Telegram, of 3,753,000 hogs, or a reduction in number of 36 per cent. Combining this big shortage of hogs at various markets with the fact that Jan. 1, 1925, showed 40 per cent more hog products in storage or being cured than on Jan. 1 this year, it is not difficult to realize that the situation as to hog products is a serious one.

The beginning of the present depletion in the hog supply may be traced back to 1924, when corn was scarce and high in price. That situation was met by farmers by the sacrificing of brood sows by the hundreds of thousands. With a large crop of corn harvested in 1925 there were no hogs to feed. Efforts are now being made to increase hog production as fast as may be, but under favorable conditions supplies will not materially enlarge for at least a year. For the time being the farmer with hogs on hands and plenty of corn to feed them is in a strategic position. Hogs at present prices are making money and as the shortage becomes more acute further advances may be expected.

The worst story I heard today was told to me by John I. White, of Washington, D. C., a newspaper man on the Washington Star. He wrote me this in a letter. It was a dull day around Washington. Congress was in session and there was nothing doing, so he had plenty of time to think up some sort of devilment to annoy me with.

I like a story sent in better than one I have to listen to, because when they tell 'em to you you have to listen, but when they send 'em in I have a fire place (a big open one) right by my desk. (I mean study). Writers have studys now. It's fancy, like realtors. Well, John must have heard this in congress.

A rather baldish-headed gentleman went into a barber shop on Pennsylvania avenue in Washington. He was a resident of Washington. He was a lobbyist. He noticed to his surprise, that the barber had on rubber gloves. He asked the barber, "What's the idea of rubber gloves?"

"Well,' said the barber, "I just finished working on a man's hair, and these are to keep our hair restorer from causing hair to grow on my hands."

The old lobbyist bought a case. The name of this wonderful preparation will be given on application.

THE PIONEER

The dictionary defines a pioneer as "one who prepares the way for or takes the lead in; as, to pioneer an enterprise."

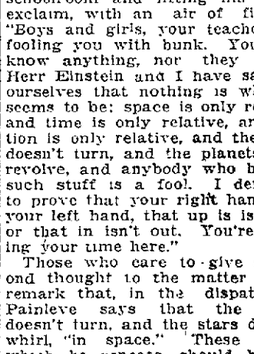

In 1873 Scott & Bowne led the way to the discovery whereby cod-liver oil could be made palatable in a form not unlike rich cream without diminishing its wonderful health-building virtues.

The result of this notable discovery was named Scott's Emulsion and it has earned merited fame throughout the entire world.

When any member of your family needs cod-liver oil, remember that it was Scott's Emulsion that first made it possible to utilize this nutrient in a practical way and it still serves the need pleasantly and efficiently.

DR. W. B. CALDWELL AT THE AGE OF 83

Most men and women past fifty must give to the bowels some occasional help, else they suffer from constipation. One might as well refuse to aid weak eyes with glasses as to neglect a gentle aid to weak bowels.

Is your present laxative, in whatever form, promoting regularity for weeks and often for months—or must you "purge" and "physic" every day or two to avoid sick headache, dizziness, biliousness, colds, or sour, gassy stomach?

One dose of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin will establish natural, healthy bowel movement for weeks at a time, even for those chronically constipated. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin not only causes a gentle, easy bowel movement but, best of all, it is often months before another dose is necessary. Besides, it is absolutely harmless and pleasant to take.

ICEBOUND RIVER YIELDS NO BODY

Dragging Of Blue River Near Barneston Abandoned By Officers. Mystery As to How Car Happened To Be In Stream Is Unsolved.

BEATRICE, Neb., Jan. 29.— (By the Associated Press.)—Abandonment, at least for the time being, of a search for the body of a woman, which some believe lies beneath the Blue rived ice near Barneston, this county, was announced by Sheriff John R. Salling after the day had failed to bring any new developments pointing to the solution of the mystery.

Arthur Hoyle, nineteen, adopted son of H. J. Hoyle, Holmesville, was not quizzed regarding the case Thursday, but may be questioned by officers later. Hoyle, who reported that while he was driving two strangers from Wymore to Virginia, east of here, they slugged him, threw him out of the car and then drove away, Wednesday identified an automobile, taken out of the river north of Barneston as his machine. He told officers that the two strangers were both men. However, foot prints of a man leading away from the river and of a woman who apparently got out of the car before it plunged into the stream, then entered the automobile again were found in the snow at the point where the auto was driven into the river.

Crews dragging the river continued their work throughout the day but found nothing to add to a woman's glove, a handkerchief and a strand of human hair found yesterday. Only a limited area could be dragged because the car had plunged through a hole made some days earlier by ice cutters and the river is covered with ice downstream from this point.

All the mysterious angles of the case remained unsolved last night. Intimations continued that Hoyle may have been engineering a plot to recover insurance on his car. Meanwhile, many will believe that some unknown girl or woman was murdered until the footprints, hair and other clues are explained. Sheriff Salling last night was non-committal but seemed leaning toward the belief that no murder is involved.

House To Use All Vital Parts Of Wilson Notes

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—(AP)—The New York Herald-Tribune Tuesday said the memoirs of Col. E. M. House, which it will publish serially, contain "every emotion, thought, view and opinion" expressed in letters from Woodrow Wilson to Colonel House.

The statement was prompted by a Washington dispatch to the New York World saying Colonel House had been denied permission to use the letters.

The actual text of the letters will not be printed in deference to the wishes of Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, the Herald-Tribune said.

CHANGE NAME TO BRYAN MEMORIAL

Methodist Hospital Will Be Called After Donor—Organize Woman's Board.

The Lincoln Methodist hospital will henceforth be known as the Bryan Memorial Hospital of the Methodist Episcopal church, following the formal acceptance of the change, which was made in the articles of the organization at a meeting of representatives of the various Methodist churches in Lincoln and vicinity, held at the Grand hotel Thursday evening.

The preliminary organization of the women's hospital board, to work in conjunction with the general hospital board, was completed at this meeting.

Mrs. R. C. McMillen was elected president; Mrs. A. D. Grow, vice president; Mrs. R. H. McReynolds, secretary; Mrs. Emma B. Susong, treasurer.

Members of the board were elected as follows: Mrs. E. O. Axtell, Mrs. C. N. Cadwallader, Mrs. F. T. Darrow, Mrs. E. S. Franklin, Mrs. Carl Bumstead, Mrs. G. A. Barringer, Mrs. Nellie Magee, Mrs. Henry Pothast, Mrs. E. J. Barnhill, Mrs. E. T Wright, Mrs. C. E. Jennings and Mrs. C. A. Gunn.

Meet Next Thursday.

The next meeting of this organization will be held at the Y. W. C. A. next Thursday, at 2:30 p. m. At this meeting the chairmen of committees will be announced. The next regular meeting will be held Feb. 25.

The membership of the board will when completed consist of 42 women, to be chosen from the protestant churches of the hospital districts. Two members will be elected to the board of trustees.

Dr. Ethel M. Laybourne, A. R. Talbot and Dr. F. E. Sala spoke at the meeting, expressing satisfaction with the response being made by those interested in the hospital, and urging that the interest be sustained. There were more than 100 at the meeting.

A meeting of the hospital board was held later at which details of the hospital furnishings were discussed.

BACK FROM ENGLAND.

NAME DIRECTORS WELFARE SOCIETY

Annual Meeting Of Charity Organization Held Thursday Evening.

The annual meeting and election of directors of the Social Welfare society, which handles a considerable amount of the charity work of the city, was held at the Grand hotel Thursday evening.

Three new directors were elected, as follows: C. S. Venner, Frank W. Miles, Rev. Ray E. Hunt. Former directors re-elected were:

C. B. Anderson	Morris Friend
Prof. L. E. Aylsworth	Dr. Daisy Hansen
H. T. Folsom	George Holmes
Miss Frances Gere	W. A. Luke
Dr. H. W. Hewitt	A. W. Richardson
Dr. J. J. Hompes	N. Z. Shell
J. A. Maguire	Dr. Kate Stoddard
G. O. Smith	H. J. Theobald
Mrs. W. T. Staver	Prof. G. O Virtue
Mrs. O. I. Axtell	Mrs. J. F. Thompson
Prof. A. L. Candy	R. O. Williams

Work Greatly Increased.

The work of the organization has shown an increase of 54 per cent over 1924, C. E. Prevey, general secretary, said in his report for the year past. This is 31 per cent greater than any previous year, since the founding of the society in 1881.

The total number of applications for relief received was 2,394, which is 300 more than in 1924 he said. The number of resident families helped was 496, and the total expenditures of the society amounted to $19,884 of which $5,100 came from a relief fund of $5,500.

Mr. Prevey's report in part was as follows:

"The total expenditures have increased very rapidly since 1919 when the high point of $8,353.00 was reached. The big increase in 1925 was in expenditures for relief. The total amount expended for direct relief and industrial aid was $9,789.00 compared with $6,320.00 in 1924, and $3,235.00 in 1923. This increase in demands for relief was entirely unexpected and was anticipated when the society made its estimate of expenditures for 1925, which was submitted to the community chest. The amount requested from the community chest for 1925 was $11,565.00. On account of the inability of the chest to raise the total amount of their budget for 1925, this society along with all the others in the chest was cut 20 per cent in the allowance for 1925. This, with the unexpected increase in the demands for relief, created a real financial emergency during the year 1925."

"The increased demand was especially marked in January, 1925, when the total expenditures amounted to $2,700.00, as compared with $1,800.00 in the January preceding. Expenses continued to be usually heavy during the year and in the month of July when there is ordinarily the least demand for relief, the expenses rose to $1,646.00 as compared with $1,000.00 in July of the year before."

G. O. Smith, treasurer of the society, gave a brief report, showing the need for a reserve fund, now depleted, and Miss Caroline Forster made a brief resume of her work as assistant secretary. Forty-five were present.

"Becky" Tells Of "Tom Sawyer" to A Radio Audience

HANNIBAL, Mo., Jan. 29.—(AP)—Capricious "Tom Sawyer" and demure little "Becky Thatcher," characters endeared in the hearts of American children by Mark Twain in his famous book, were called to life last night to a radio audience by "Becky" herself.

Speaking by transmission through station WOS, Jefferson City, Mrs. Laura Frazier, the noted author's boyhood sweetheart and the original "Becky" of his book, recounted incidents in the lives of "Tom Sawyer," "Huckleberry Finn" and herself, when they were children in school at Hannibal nearly four score years ago.

"Tom and I started to school together," she said. "He was much like the average boy, full of pranks and often played hooky from school. He also had the habit of a great many American boys of always having his pockets filled with various articles to trade, including about everything.

"Becky" told of her first meeting with "Tom Sawyer," when the lad while turning "cartwheels" accidentally struck her on the head. His interest to know if she had been injured was the beginning of their acquaintance which grew to their lifelong friendship.

"We always considered Sam funny," she said, speaking of Sam Clemens, the real name of Mark Twain, "but we never thought he would become a great writer. I believe his experience as a river pilot caused him to dream his stories and weave into them the happy childhood days spent at Hannibal."

Mrs. Frazier is 88 years old and is the only one now living of the characters used by Clemens in his books. She spoke at the annual banquet of the Hannibal chamber of commerce.

Copies of "Tom Sawyer" autographed by 'Becky" were offered as prizes to the first person of each state who wired in receipt of the radio program and hundreds of messages were received from all sections of the country before the program was ended.

Authorities Ask More Indictments In Oklahoma Case

OKLAHOMA CITY, Jan. 29.—(AP)—The Oklahoma City Times said Thursday that indictments are expected against certain persons who have attempted to interfere with the government's investigation of the alleged death conspiracy in the Osage country.

The federal grand jury that returned murder charges against W. K. Hale, wealthy Osage county ranchman, and John Ramsey, cowboy farmer, is to be given much new testimony when it reconvenes at Guthrie, February 12, it is said. Hale and Ramsey were charged with the murder of Henry Roan, an Indian. The newspaper declares that at that time a prominent Pawhuska business man, heretofore unmentioned, is to be drawn into the net.

Included in the new testimony, the Times declares, is evidence that W. W Vaughn, Pawkuska attorney, whose body was found along the right of way of the Missouri, Kansas & Texas railroad after he had been here to confer with an Osage client, was killed in Oklahoma City and his body carried onto the sleeping car from which it was later thrown. Vaugh's client was George Bigheart, who died the day after the conference.

MINE DEADLOCK STILL UNBROKEN

Little Progress Made In Thursday Negotiations At Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 29.—(By the Associated Press.)—Anthracite miners and operators in joint conference trying to bring an end to the coal strike, having agreed to meet daily from 1:30 p. m., to 6:00 p. m., sat out thier allotted time Thursday and adjourned until today without breaking their deadlock.

The daily announcement agreed upon to keep the public informed of the progress of negotiations, was almost barren of information. It follows:

"The anthracite committee met today at 1:30 and continued its discussion of a possibility of reaching an agreement.

"There was a general discussion of numerous plans submitted to the conference. These plans were still under discussion at the time the committee adjourned at 6 o'clock.

"The committee will meet tomorrow at 1:30 p. m."

Root Pleads For Party Regularity; Says Blocs Menace

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—(AP)—Denouncing the bloc system of government, Elihu Root, speaking at a meeting of the National Civic federation Thursday, said it was imperative for the welfare of the United States that it return to the "good old fashioned" forms of party organizations. He asserted that the bloc systems had proved a failure wherever tried, causing discontent and disruption.

"The bloc system was enforced during the most corrupt and disgraceful period in England's history," said Mr. Root. "It has made the government of France virtually helpless because no statesman there can rise to speak on public policy and be sure the bloc system will not pull his chair from under him. In Italy the blocs so disrupted the theory of government that Mussolini was heartily welcomed. Bloc rule will never obtain enforcement of the will of the majority."

Advocating the return in this country of a strict party form of government, Mr. Root said: "We have run into a period of government when individuals seem to ally themselves to a party for no other purpose than to get elected. They feel no obligations to stand by the principles of the party in whose name they are elected."

A more palatable cod-liver oil has been achieved!

THE special manufacturing process, developed by E. R. Squibb & Sons, New York, has made cod-liver oil much easier to take. It removes impurities which made the old-type cod-liver oil so distasteful to many. The taste is also improved by a remarkable process which at the same time preserves the all-important, all-precious vitamin content.

Vitamins disappear from cod-liver oil very rapidly when it is exposed to the air. To retain them is a delicate and difficult process. Thus it happens that more than one cod-liver oil has been put on the market minus the life-giving, protective, growth-promoting vitamins which make the effects of good cod-liver oil so amazing.

The Squibb process guards against the loss of this precious vitamin content. A pint of Squibb's Cod-Liver Oil is richer in Vitamin A than one hundred pounds of the best creamery butter—than 1200 quarts of grade A milk. And Vitamin A is the vitamin which promotes growth and protects the body against bacterial infection. Cod-liver oil is also amazingly rich in Vitamin D, which prevents and cures rickets.

Insist upon Squibb's Cod-Liver Oil. And whenever you require household products, insist upon Squibb's Household Products—such as Squibb's Castor Oil (Tasteless), Squibb's Milk of Magnesia, Squibb's Sodium Bicarbonate, Squibb's Epsom Salts. They are pure, safe and efficacious. At drug stores everywhere.

When the most glamourous picture is over—and you come outside to the bright lights and the brighter laughter of friends —have a Camel!

WHEN the exciting scenes are over. And you leave the great theatre thrilled at what you've seen. When, as the organ peals forth its rolling music, you come outside with jovial, laughing friends—have a Camel!

For nothing else on earth could be so refreshing among the great white lights as Camel. Camel adds of its own bright goodness to the enjoyment of every pleasing scene. Camel is the hale friend and companion for eventful days and carefree evenings. Here is something worth writing in words of gold: "Camels never tire the taste, or leave a cigaretty after-taste, no matter how freely you smoke them." And what's more, you can't buy choicer tobaccos or more perfect blending, no matter how much you pay.

So, this night as you leave for the brilliant scenes. And when the big show is finished and you've seen life in its tense and purposeful moments—know then the mellowest fragrance that ever came from a cigarette.

Have a Camel!

No other cigarette in the world is like Camels. Camels contain the choicest Turkish and domestic tobaccos. The Camel blend is the triumph of expert blenders. Even the Camel cigarette paper is the finest—made especially in France. Into this one brand of cigarettes is concentrated the experience and skill of the largest tobacco organization in the world.

Our highest wish, if you do not yet know Camel quality, is that you try them. We invite you to compare Camels with any cigarette made at any price.

ANNUAL BANQUET OF LINCOLN Y. W. C. A.

The thirty-third annual banquet of the Y. W. C. A. will be held this evening in the club rooms of the Y. W. C. A., and the results of the election of the new members of the board will be announced. Places have been reserved for one hundred and fifty, and white hyacinths will be used as floral decorations with also some flowers in the spring colors of pink and lavender. Mrs. E. W. Miskell, president of the board will preside and the program will be as follows: Devotions, Mrs. W. A. Sain; The secretary, Mrs. B. F. Williams will report the last meeting; the result of the election will be announced by Mrs. H. R. Ankeny; a talk by Miss Frances Drake; and several playlets by the Girls Reserve.

DINNER DANCE OF THE ENTERPE CLUB

A truly Valentine party was the dinner dance of the Enterpe club held at the Lincoln hotel last night. Seventy couples attended and were seated at a U-shaped table in the ballroom which was decorated with red tapers and paper dolls. Red hearts and cupids were also favors and proved to be a cheery and attractive part of the decorations. Ferns were banked around the orchestral platform. Mr. and Mrs. Frank deBrown were the only guests. During the intermission as a feature of the entertainment Miss Evelyn Lindemann and her brother Ernest Lindemann danced the Charleston both as solo numbers and together. The committee on arrangements was made up of Mr. and Mrs. L. H. deBrown, Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Beemer, Mr and Mrs. T. A. Sick and Mr. and Mrs P. R. Chevalier.

Press Praised By Grove Patterson

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Jan. 29.—(AP)—The newspaper was characterized as one of mankind's four greatest institutions by Grove Patterson, editor of the Toledo, O., Blade, speaking before the New York State Publishers' association last night. The others cited were the home, the church and the school. Newspapers give people more honest service for less money than any other business on earth, he asserted.

Defending newspapers against unjustified attacks for things they do and do not do, Mr. Patterson said:

"It is the cheap and joyous custom to criticize newspapers."

The four major undertakings of newspapers today, Mr. Patterson listed as follows: To furnish an accurate information service in the proportion that experience and accumulated technique have taught: to act, in the editorial columns, as a brake upon the leaping chariot wheels of a doubtful democracy; to popularize science; to enlarge its facilities and to become something more than newspapers.

FEW CHANGES IN G. A. R. IN 1925

Says Loss Of Fourteen Posts and 289 Members Recorded Not Excessive.

Comparatively few changes have taken place in the Nebraska department of the G. A. R. during the year 1925, says the report of Adjutant Harmon Bross, prepared for the commander-in-chief. A few posts have surrendered their quarters, and several have failed to report because all the officers have passed away, Rev. Bross finds, but the total of these losses is only fourteen out of 182 posts, about the average of the past ten years.

The larger losses by death have come as usual in the larger posts, Farragut No. 25, Lincoln, and Old Guard, Omaha. The former buried twenty-two comrades, eighteen of them members of the post, and the latter lost seventeen.

Attendance at the state encampment at Omaha and at the national encampment at Grand Rapids, Mich., the report concludes, gives promise that Nebraska will be represented at both for at least ten years to come. The attendance was about the same for the two—at Omaha of the 1,000 attending, 300 were comrades, 300 members of the Women's Relief corps and 400 from allied organizations.

Membership of 1260.

"The total membership last year was 1260, but the loss from disbanded posts and from living posts combined, has reached 289, leaving a total membership of 971. The strength of the G. A. R. in Nebraska at this point in its history has to do not simply with its own membership, but the much larger membership of its auxiliary, the W. R. C and allied organizations. The W. R. C. alone has now a membership of nearly 5,000, and the total of other allied organizations reaches about the same figure. All of these organizations have their annual meetings at the time of the department meetings of the G. A. R. This makes practically six conventions in the same place at the same time and this aids in securing accommodations in large cities and reduced railroad rates.

"Another interesting feature of the year 1925 has been the settlement of the department in its commodious rooms in the new capitol building. Through the kindly offices of Governor Adam McMullen, and his associates of the capitol commission, rooms have been provided for the main office and for storing the show cases containing relics that have been gathered during the last dozen years. These relics are cared for in connection with the office work of the department. An important addition has been made to these show cases lately in the relic case forwarded by Past Department Commander W. H Stewart of Geneva. This relic case has been kept for some time in the court house of Fillmore county to assemble relics from that district.

"All arrangements are now complete for the next department encampment at Hastings the first week of the ensuing May. The department has united several times during the year with other patriotic organizations in the observance of special patriotic days and can always be counted upon to do its part. Two department commanders have passed on during the year: Comrades Geo. C. Humphrey ad John A. Ehrhardt."

Large Land Owner Terminates Life

SHENANDOAH, Ia., Jan. 29—(AP)—Rufus Doan, 41, once owner of 700 acres of land and a large town house, ended his life today by drinking poison at the dairy he ran with Dr. R. W. Revell. Financial difficulties was given as the reason.

Dr. Doan, formerly owned 500 acres of land near Centralia, Mo. Since his financial difficulties arose his wife had been conducting a beauty parlor in an Omaha hotel.

His daughter, Hazel, in Omaha, and a brother in Bedford, Ia., also survive

Cows Make Profit For Stanton Man

(Special to The Star)

STANTON, Neb., Jan. 29.—Although each of three cows, owned by Peter Nielson, had produced from 10 to 13 calves, or a total of about 35, which he raised and had gotten beyond the age of usefulness as brood cows, they topped the Omaha market when he sold them recently, each one 5n the average bringing him over $102, or a total of $306.38.

After Severe Illness Gain Strength Quickly The New Pleasant Way

Nothing like the wonderful vitalizing vitamines in Cod Liver Oil to help convalescing people to quickly get strong and well—everybody knows that.

But nobody wants to take the ill-smelling, horrible tasting stomach upsetting oil itself, so nowadays, up to date medical men are ordering a tablet of Cod Liver Oil and it surely has proved a blessing to thousands of people who have been sapped of their natural strength after a severe illness and especially after the Grippe or a stubborn cough or cold.

Ask Harley Drug Co. or any druggist for a box of McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets. They cost but little, are sugar coated and as pleasant to take as candy.

Skinny men and women take them to speedily put on plenty of good healthy solid flesh and for this purpose they are so extremely good that thin men and women often take on 5 pounds or more in 30 days. As a matter of fact, your druggist is authorized to return your money if you don't take on 5 pounds in 30 days.

Be sure and ask for McCoy's the original and genuine Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets—60 tablets—60 cents.—Advertisement.

Black Eagle Added To Zoo

Phillip Edinborough, assistant superintendent of parks, announced Friday that he has received an addition to the park zoo in the form of a black eagle of last season's hatch. The bird was purchased from Emil Banek of David City and has a 40-inch wing-spread. It is two feet tall, Mr. Edinborough says, and is a fine specimen. The zoo also has a large bald eagle.

The new arrival was placed in one of the large cages immediately east of the entrance at Twenty-seventh and C streets.

Minerva's Mail

Take Your Troubles To Minerva

Many New Members.

Dear Minerva: Have never written to you before, but have been, up to now, a silent member.

(Note from Minerva—Three cheers for the new members. I believe every letter I have opened this week started with a phrase similar to the one above. We love our old-time correspondents but we welcome frequent seasonings of new thinkers and new questioners in our midst.)

"R. E. H.'s letter certainly displayed to full extent the character he has. It is too bad that he has such a narrow-minded view of women in general. I'm right here to say "R. E. H." that it's men like you that cause the greater share of heartaches in this world.

I can't quite understand the sixteen year old girls. First they say "A girl that won't allow a boy to kiss her isn't very popular," then they turn right around and say "A girl has the same right to demand a clean record from her husband that he has from his wife. "All very true, I say. But do you think your husband (when you get one) will think kissing every boy you have gone with "a clean record."

I'm inclined to lean with "A Lawyer" in many of his statements. But I do not think that legs are anything to be ashamed of. But I can't see anything beautiful or educational in half a dozen girls on the lawn on a moonlight night, dancing with only a chiffon scarf draped across their bodies. I'm not for dresses that sweep the street either, I like to see dresses about twelve inches from the floor, but not twenty-four.

I hope Minerva (and readers also) that you won't calss me as an old maid or a grouch, for I'm neither. I'm a young married girl, if you care to know just how young I'll tell you I'm only twenty, will be twenty-one my next birthday. I'm happy with my husband and baby girl. I'm trying my hardest to be the wife, mother and pal to hubby and baby. We are of the middle class, that is, not rich nor destitute, but working and pulling together for a home of our own with a pretty green lawn and a white (to match the house) fence around it, with a sandpile in one corner for our kiddies. That's the picture I have in my mind of our "home" and oh yes, I very nearly forgot to add that there will be hollyhocks in my back yard too.

Spring will see us out of debt and (I hope) in our home. Then will be planning for more furniture, new curtains and pretty things for our children. True, we have only one girl now but it won't be long until she will be asking for a sister, maybe brother. Anyway when we're better able and daughter is older we're planning on a playmate for her.

You will probably say "That's a funny thing to plan on." Well I think if more couples would plan more for their babies that there would be less uneducated and unwanted children in this world.

I don't believe in children being mishaps Minerva. What is your opinion? I also believe in telling children gradually the truth when they begin to ask, about the origin of life.

If mothers and fathers would talk and explain, also be pals with their children, children would put more trust and confidence in their parents and I do not believe in hounding the children to death every time they have a date. Both Hubby and I think alike in such matters.

The other day my hubby said "When D— gets to the age of "dating" our house will be open house for her; I'm not going to forbid her to go with boys, instead she is to ask for permission when she wants to go to the movies, for rides, parties etc. We will have a victrola (we have it already) and a piano, books and magazines. She can have parties and taffy pulls and yes, dancing if we have the room. There's no use to tell her she can't, if you don't open the front door she will sneak out of back."

I am right with him in it too. We will make things so nice at home for her that she won't seek amusement at improper places. Of course she can go. She will probably get to go about every time she wants to. But we want to know just where she is going, who she is going with and when to expect her back so is that too much to demand of her, Minerva? You see I want my girl to feel that she can bring a girl home with her for the night or for dinner without her parents saying something like this to her after her guests have gone, "Why didn't you ask if you could bring a guest home; you have no business to bring people here unless I give you my consent," etc. You know how radical some parents are. But never will my girl have to stand the shame of parents who do not understand.

Minerva, I expect you are bored to tears with me. But I'll stop so you can get your breath. It looks as though you'd have to read this by instalments.

Hoping you will say I may come again, I'm—JUST JEAN.

A. I drew some mighty deep, refreshing breaths during the reading of your letter—didn't have to come up for air at the finish as you expected me to do.

I am charmed with your wholesome outlook on life, your enthusiastic planning for a normal happy, wise, home life for your youngster and their always-to-be-young parents.

May your wishes be granted, my dear, and may you be given continued courage and freshness with which to solve your daily problems. May you never grow cynical or bored or surfeited with life. But continue always, the dear little bride and mother of pink-cheeked dreams, eager-eyed ambitions, and true-hearted ideals.

I just hope my own sons may be fortunate enough to be among the friends of your young daughter in the years to come.

Regulate the Size.

Dear Minerva: Am coming to you for a little information as do many of your readers and hope to see an answer soon.

Is there any place in Lincoln where paintings can be put on exhibit? If so what are the requirements—time limit, etc?

Would like to write my idea on some of the letters I have seen in your mail but must postpone it until later.

However, will say to "Poverty," keep your baby to be, and if you are a true mother you could not entertain the thought for a moment of giving him away. Because a babe is weak and helpless is no reason why he should be taken from his parents, who alone God has meant to be responsible for him, but all the more reason why he should not be taken away.

No matter how very poor one is there is, and always will be a way to provide for a family. But if you are in such poverty why not try to regulate the size of your family? Any normal, intelligent couple can do so in a lawful, safe and sane way. That, I am sure would be more lawful and sane than bringing babies into the world to give away to people who do not and cannot love them as a true parent should.—A MOTHER OF ONE.

A. I know of no set place for the exhibit of an amateur's painting. Frequently they are exhibited, through special arrangement, in art store or department store windows or place of advantage inside the establishment.

I would appreciate any information on the subject from a fellow-artist (fellow artist with this young matron, not with your humble conductress.)

Popular Twins.

Dear Minerva: We are a pair of very popular twins. Do not think us proud or coquettish because we are not, we are just common. Our trouble is this; we have gone with twin boys for over two years until just recently when a couple of other boys came to our town. We were at a party lately and the twin boys were absent. After the party the other boys asked that they might take us to our home. We accepted the date and the twins heard about it. They will not even speak to us now. Our parents are very much in favor of us going with them, because they are respectable young men and good workers. We have heard from other sources that they want us back, but want to spite us by waiting for us to say something to them first.

Please tell us, shall we ask them to forgive us or is it their place to ask us?—UPLAND TWINS.

A. I don't know why you should ask for forgiveness, if no engagement exists between you and your twin and the twin boys.

However it would do no harm to stretch a point and tell the old-time friends that you are very sorry if you have hurt their feelings and lost any of the liking which they formerly had for you. Since you like them so very much, you might reassure them on any foundation of jealousy which they have erected.

Urge Planting of Sweet Clover As Superior Forage

(Special to The Star.)

HASTINGS, Neb., Jan. 29—County agents in this section of Nebraska, along with agricultural experts in the university extension service, will advocate the planting of more sweet clover in preference to alfalfa in Nebraska both for forage crops and for renewing the nitrogen in the soil.

This decision was reached at a meeting of county agents with representatives of the extension service at Clay Center. Agents attended from Fillmore, Thayer, Adams, Clay, Hamilton and Hall counties. Harry Gould and D. L. Gross represented the extension department.

Sweet clover will do more for soil in two years than alfalfa in six years, according to records compiled by agricultural experts. Testing of oats varieties and comparison tests between smooth kernel and rough kernel corn will also be carried out in this section of the state during the coming season.

Federal Land Bank Has Millions To Loan To Farmers

OMAHA, Jan. 29.—(AP)—The federal land bank of Omaha has more than ten million dollars in actual cash on hand to loan to Nebraska, Iowa, South Dakota and Wyoming farmers without change in its past methods of making loans, John Carmody, secretary, announced today. His statement followed announcement of a ruling from federal farm loan board at Washington which is said to curtail lending ability of land banks.

Applications at the rate of $1,250,000 weekly are being received and handled by the bank now, Carmody said.

Seek To Replace Unprofitable Cows In East Nebraska

OMAHA, Jan. 29.—(AP)—Efforts to replace gradually the 30,000 cows in nine eastern Nebraska counties, which are declared to be unprofitable, by sows proven to be profitable through production records are the basis of a series of meeting which are in progress in these counties.

It is claimed the defective cattle represent a waste of nearly $2,000,000 annually to farmers.

The meetings are under the direction of M. L. Flack, extension specialist in dairying of the Nebraska college of agriculture. Mr. Flack is here conferring with Douglas county farm bureau officials who are co-operating in arrangements for four meetings in the county.

RETAIN SUPERINTENDENT.

WAUSA, Neb., Jan. 29.—The board of education here, in order to make sure of the present superintendent of schools, Prof. R. S. Woolridge, who has been serving in that capacity for the past year, has re-elected him for the coming school year at a salary of $2,000 a year and free residence.

Purity and Uniform Quality Due to Constant Laborator Control. Demand Gooch's Best Macaroni.

This tragedy of history proves how truly you need a clear soap

At a brilliant pageant, directed by the famous Leonardo de Vinci, a young boy was gilded from head to foot. It caused his death—because his pores were clogged.

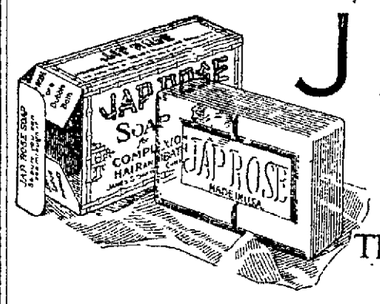

This shows how important to both health and beauty it is to use a soap that thoroughly cleanses pores to their very ends without clogging them.

Unlike thick, coarse soaps which clog pores, Jap Rose is so fine, so pure that it dissolves completely in water and hence can enter, cleanse and stimulate the 5 miles of tiny pores in your body.

You can tell it is doing this by the pleasant temporary tingle that follows its first use.

For Love of a Woman

(Copyright by International Feature Service.)

CHAPTER 44.

After his talk with John, he called on Alice and borrowed from her a little ring that she was in the habit of wearing. He told her, with a kiss, his reason for wanting it.

"You must have a solitaire," he explained, "and the ring must be just the right size. Is there any special type of setting that you prefer?"

"Certainly. I am sure your mother would wish it, too."

From the slight flush that came to her face James suspected that the mother had already broached the subject. He did not voice this suspicion.

"I am in no hurry, Jim, but it must be as you think best," the girl said.

John had been correct in his surmise with regard to Frederick Smith and Sons. The simple statement that he wishes to have any purchase he made charged to John's account was sufficient. Young Smith himself showed him the rings, and asked no questions.

As James studied the stones spread before him, he felt that it would be quite impossible for one in his position to get such a jewel as he desired for the price that he had mentally fixed.

He could not bear the idea that people might remark that Alice Fitzgerald had accepted a man who could not afford to buy her a handsome diamond. He was aware that the girl would be satisfied—or seem to be—with any stone he might give her. Her father might be, too. Yet—what about her mother? And might not Richard Fitzgerald, himself, wonder slightly that a suitor with the income James had led him to believe was his, should purchase a diamond that cost only a hundred and fifty dollars? He must not be a piker? He would not give grounds for suspicion that he was a poor chap marrying a rich girl. The suggestion was an offense to his pride.

So he rejected the small stones and selected a diamond whose size, color and price were such as to satisfy his self-love and make a big drain upon his resources.

"Do you wish anything engraved inside the ring?" the merchant asked when James had selected the setting.

"Oh yes, I had almost forgotten that item," he replied with an embarrassed laugh. "Just two pairs of initials, please, 'A. F. and J. H.' That's all. I will call for the ring on Friday afternoon. Good day!"

Of course the chap suspected who "A. F." was, he mused as he went out into the street. Yet, why should he? There were other girls in Fairfield whose initials might be the same as Alice's. He was becoming self-conscious in his desire to appear well at this important crisis of his life.

He found himself quite excited at reflecting on the impression the handsome ring would produce. But the sense of elation left him as he recalled that in less than thirty days he must pay for it.

The worst of it was that John must know the price of the ring. And he would marvel at the extravagance of the purchaser. Not that he would express any disapproval. Trust John to mind his own business! But it would make James uncomfortable to know that John knew.

Perhaps John need not know. The money that Dilke was counting on so confidently would have begun to flow in before the end of this month. It must! By then James must replace what he had borrowed from the firm—before the fact of his having borrowed it could be discovered.

He shivered slightly as he appreciated what would happen if he could not replace it. He must not let himself consider this possibility. What had started him on this trend of forbidden thought, anyway?

Oh yes the matter of paying John for the ring. If—as he confidently expected—James got money before the end of the month, he could go to Smith and tell him that he had decided to pay cash for the ring instead of having it put on John's account.

That would be a good idea! The plan filled his mind with joy and he walked down the street to his office with a light heart and confident step.

It was a lovely day. The air was sweet with sunshine and the breath of flowers. Alice had promised to marry him. All his financial troubles would soon be behind him. With a wealthy wife as well as one who was attractive and lovely, what would he have to fear? In a few months he would be safely married. He need endure the uncertain present and its contigencies only a little longer. Then he would be safe in the matrimonial harbor of affluence.

There was nothing to be afraid of. He had led a rather decent sort of life on the whole. No woman could ever face Alice or her father and complain of some hideous affair with him. What was a little money irregularity compared with such disgrace as that?

By the time he had reached his office he felt that he was a fine as well as a lucky fellow. He had a right to use for a few weeks the money that he and his brother handled in their particular branch of business. If John had needed the money he was surely at liberty to use it without saying a word to anyone.

But John would not use it. James was certain of that. He was also certain that John would call such "borrowing" by an ugly name.

John would never know. James muttered an oath as he reflected how often the thought of his brother intruded itself disagreeably upon otherwise agreeable musings.

GENEVA PLEASED WITH U. S. ENTRY

League Officials Welcome News Of American Adherence to World Court.

Senate Opponents Announce Intention to Take Fight "To The People."

GENEVA, Jan. 29.—(By the Associated Press.)—As the news of American adherence to the permanent court of international justice, known as the World court, spread through Geneva, which now is the scene of the sessions of the various technical commissions, expressions of satisfaction were heard on all sides yesterday.

Many said it meant the definite enrollment of the United States in international affairs in a helpful, co-operative sense, without political commitments, and that the United States by this act has testified to her determination to collaborate in the maintenance of peace.

Next Step Ttaken.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—(By the Associated Press.)—Another step along the road leading to American membership in the World court was taken Thursday, with the official notification of President Coolidge of the adpotion of the resolution of adherence with reservations by the senate.

This event was without formality. Edwin P. Thayer, secretary of the senate, attached the official seal to a copy of the resolution done on parchment and dispatched it to the white house by special messenger. Under the law, Vice President Dawes did not have to sign the copy.

From the white house, the resolution was transmitted to the state department, which now takes up the task of advising the forty-eight nations members of the court that the United States is ready to sign with reservation and of inquiring whether those nations approve of membership on the conditions laid down by the American government.

All Must Accept.

The refusal of a single state to accept those conditions would operate to prevent the signature of the United States to the protocol and statute now deposited in the headquarters of the League of Nations at Geneva.

Those who have been most prominent in the fight against ratification said they would not be content to rest their hopes of a refusal of some state to assent to the conditions under which the American government is willing to participate in the tribunal.

Declaring that the fight to prevent a permanent change in the foreign policy of this country had only begun, they declared they would take their case to the court of American public opinion, beginning with the senatorial primaries and elections this summer and fall.

Following up the announcement of Senator Borah, republican, Idaho, on the radio Wednesday night that he would take the case to the country, Senator Reed, democrat, Missouri, another of the outstanding figures in the fight against ratification, declared Thursday that he too, would appeal to "the great court of American public opinion."

"The people have a right to decide it," he said in a formal statement. "A senate combination may 'gag' a minority in the senate, but they cannot 'gag' discussion before the American people."

Advise Women

to adopt new hygienic method and retain freshness this way; true protection; discard like tissue

LARGELY on medical advice, women are abandoning the old-time "sanitary pad" for a new way that supplants uncertainty with positive protection.

Sheer frocks and ill-timed social engagements no longer remain as worries. Lost days are fewer, and health better.

It is called "KOTEX." Ends the insecurity of the old-time sanitary pad. Five times as absorbent! And deodorizes—ends ALL fear of offending.

You get it at any drug or department store simply by saying "KOTEX." You ask for it without hesitancy.

Costs only a few cents. Eight in 10 better-class women employ it. Proves the risk of old ways.

MARKER TO ALSO BE A MEMORIAL

Commissioner Plans to Have Milestone Commemorate War Veterans.

Ex-Service Organizations to Give Emblems; Fund Is Now $519.

Although designed as a marker from which distances in all directions from Lincoln are to be measured, the milestone which is to be unveiled by the city early in May, will also be a memorial to veterans of all American wars, Commissioner Duncan announced Friday.

The American Legion, the commissioner said, already has agreed to furnish an emblem. The G. A. R., Veterans of Foreign Wars and United Spanish War Veterans are expected to announce their willingness to do so. None but emblems of former servicemen's organizations will be considered.

It has not been settled how the emblems will be placed on the stone, but they will be sunk and placed so as to harmonize with other plates or inscriptions.

Response to the plea for volunteer subscriptions has been so generous that the city council has started discussing the design of the marker and its location. Whether to mount a bronze covered wagon and ox team on the top or have the same design in a bronze plate and place a compass on the top is a troublesome problem.

Subscriptions Friday noon had reached $519.

Mr. Duncan has received requests from a number of towns to speak before business men and explain the purpose of the marker. He intends to accept as many as possible.

Offer Two Plans For Capitalization Of Power Company

The Gage County Electric Co. of Beatrice, a newly organized corporation that is to take over the electric power business of Black Bros., is given its choice of two methods of capitalization under the terms of an order issued by the state railway commission Friday.

The total amount authorized by each plan is $384,650. By the first opin, this would include $53,500 of 6 per cent 1bonds, $146,500 of 7 per cent preferred stock, and $84,650 of common stock. The second option allows $200,000 of bonds, $100,000 of preferred stock, and $84,650 of common stock.

Bonds may be sold at 95 and the common stock at $100. Watever the selling cost of preferred stock may be is to be amortized from future surplus as it is earned.

It will depend on the articles of incorporation, not yet filed, which plan of capitalization shall be followed.

The company asked for approval of $500,000 altogether, including $250,000 bonds, $150,000 preferred stock, and $100,000 common stock. The property was alleged to be worth $443,00. Afterward, the request was amended by increasing the amount to $510,000.

Young Dillon Believed Held At New York

NEW YORK, Jan. 23.—(AP)—Edward G. Dillon, who claims to be the son of the late Dr. William J. Dillon of St. Louis, and John Hardman, both about 21, are under arrest on charges of stealing an automobile and $10,000 in jewels in Milford, Pa.

They also are charged with the holdup of a restaurant here last Friday and, according to the police, have confessed their part in both robbery.

After Dillon's arrest it was said that Dr. Dillon was abroad, but word came from St. Louis that he was mysteriously slain last May. Young Dillon was questioned at that time concerning the death, but was released.

SUFFERED WITH CONSTIPATION 25 YEARS

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN brought relief in 3 weeks!

Read this remarkable testimonial to the power of Kellogg's ALL-BRAN over constipation:

"I prize your ALL-BRAN. I have been using it three weeks for constipation. I had had this trouble for 25 years and had tried everything, but could never get any relief—but since using your bran I can truthfully say that I am entirely cured and feel like a new man."

Yours truly,
THOMAS A. HENLEY, JR.

Blotchy skin, eruptions, spots before the eyes, headaches—these all tell of the ravaging inroads of constipation. Don't let this dire disease send its poisons through your body. Check it now and save your health and happiness!

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN, is guaranteed to relieve constipation permanently if used regularly or money refunded. Eat two tablespoonfuls daily—in chronic cases, every meal.

Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek, Michigan. Kellogg's is 100 per cent bran. Ready to eat. Delicious with fruit or cream—also in cooking. Served in all restaurants. Sold by all grocers.

Livestock Judges Guests at Meeting Of Kiwanis Club

Members of the senior and junior livestock judging teams of the college of agriculture were guests of the Kiwanis club at the chamber of commerce Friday noon. The junior team recently carried off high honors at the Denver national livestock show.

Miss Alice Stebbins, for two years director of musical activities for the Camp Fire girls at Camp Kiwanis, sang the Serenade from the Student Prince. She was accompanied at the piano by Miss Taylor. For an encore Miss Stebbins sang the Indian love call.

E. C. Hardy gave a demonstration with Panatrope, and Bruce E. McEntire, Kiwanis trustee for the Nebraska-Iowa district made a report on the meeting of the district board at Webster City, Iowa, January 21.

PREFERS SWINE TO POLITICIANS

Jackson Says Impossible to Organize All Farmers Of Country.

CHADRON, Neb., Jan. 29.—(By the Associated Press.) — George Jackson, secretary of the state board of agriculture, told the annual livestock breeders' association dinner at the midwinter farm congress here last night that he had found politics more unpleasant than swine cultivation.

"I used to raise hogs, but quit that occupation for politics," Mr. Jackson asserted. "However, the deeper I got into politics the more homesick I became for my hogs."

Mr. Jackson asserted that organization of the more than 5,000,000 farmers of the country is impossible and that because of this, legislative bodies must act to benefit the farmer.

Ernest Goodman of Dawes county, won the sweepstakes of the corn show. The Northwest and western Nebraska fair boards conferred today to set dates for 1926 fairs. Rural education was on the program at other meetings.

A movement designed to raise the quality of grain without increasing production, is expected to be launched by western Nebraska farmers as a result of the meeting.

H. W. Biedermann told the farmers "criticism has been made that farmers in this section have been pushing their production too heavily and our problem is to keep production at a minimum but increase the quality."

M. B. Posson of the agricultural college at Lincoln, spoke on livestock problems peculiar to northwest Nebraska. Other speakers outlined methods of seed selection and treatment for improving various crops.

Doctor and Nurse Claims Rejected

Claims aggregating $416.25 filed by Dr. E. Metheny, Dr. T. F. McCarthy and Fred A. Strieb, a registered nurse, for their services in attending John J. Eisenbarht have been disallowed by State Labor Commissioner Kennedy along with one filed in Eisenbarth's behalf requesting compensation for injury due to an accident. The claims were brought against the Nebraska Gas & Electric Co., Eisenbarth's former employer.

There was no evidence, Kennedy holds, to show that Eisenbarth's disability had its origin in any injury connected with his employment as a lineman and helper for the company. Eisenbarth himself did not appear at the hearings and those who appeared to be chiefly interested were the physicians and the nurse.

It was represented that Eisenbarth accidentally struck himself on the shin with an axe and strained himself by slipping off the grade in a roadway.

Dr. Metheny's bill was $196.25, while Dr. McCarthy asked for $100 and Strieb wanted $120.

61 Club Starts Membership Drive

Special meeting of the Lincoln Sixty-one club was held Friday noon at the Grand hotel to perfect plans is now under way. Short addresses were made by Judge George A. Eberly, Captain Charles W. Taylor, Dr. Carey Duncan, state president of the Sons of Veterans auxiliary, and Paul Goss, chairman of the rules committee for the drive.

A report on arrangements for the observance of Abraham Lincoln's birthday was given by Captain Charles W. Taylor. The details of this program, to be given at the Grand hotel, will be announced Sunday.

Officers for the Sixty-one club for the coming year will be elected at a meeting at the hotel next Friday, it was announced.

Among the guests at the luncheon were: Mrs. Sarah Munson, president of the Farragut W. R. C. No. 10; Mrs. Alta Stonecker, president of the General Custer Circle, L. G. A. R.; and Mrs. Minnie Snyder, president of the Sons of Veterans auxiliary, No. 4, Unixersity Place.

Treasurer Not to Blame For Delay

In reference to complaints coming in to State Treasurer Robinson because money from the December school apportionment was not distributed in time to become available during the month of January, Bookkeeper J. M. Davy explains that the delay is not due to any fault of the treasurer's office.

"We certified the apportionment funds to the state superintendent's office about December 20," said Mr. Davey. "I do not know why it took so long to get the amounts figured and the warrants drawn. That was up to the state superintendent. We could not make payment until the warrants came back, which they did this week. This office has not been holding back funds due to the school districts of Nebraska."

Suspenders Coming Back, Says Committee on Men's Fashions

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 29.—(By the Associated Press.)—Return of the popularity of suspenders and a narrowing of extreme baggy trousers will be the principal changes in men's fashions in 1926. The general style and character of clothes will not be changed to any great extent.

This was the report of the committee on fashions to the National Association of Merchant Tailors at the closing session of its annual convention here yesterday.

Colored shirts with collars to match will continue to be in vogue for town and busines wear, but colors should harmonize with clothes worn.

Unfinished worsteds will be used to as great an extent as ever. Flannels in shades of grey, blue or bright colors and the lighter tones of browns in palin, also striped and over plaid effects will be popular. Capri blue, the new shade for flannels and unfinished worsteds, will be much favored. Cheviots and tweeds will be much in demand for the spring, fall and winter seasons. Colorful fabric for sports and country used are shown in many new shades and attractive designs.

Coats will reflect the appearance of comfort, with chests full and well rounded and shoulders broad. The single breasted, no collar waistscoat is to be popular style. Two or three button sack coats will be proper, but the two button models are more generally favored. Both peaked and notched lapel styles will be worn. The double breasted sack is regarded as now coming into permanent popularity.

The committee report says there is a growin ddemand for silk top hats for full evening dress and morning clothes and that the derby is now very popular with well dressed men for town wear. Soft hats, says the report, are mostly worn for travel and inclement weather.

FOREIGN STATIONS RECEIVED BETTER

Broadcasting In Radio Test Week Most Successful Thursday Night.

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—(By the Associated Press.)—With Europe and North and South America holding their final radio conversations of international test week, radio fans in this country reported reception of ten foreign stations when the broadcasting ended last night.

Messages to the radio test committee indicated conditions in the air were more favorable than on any other night of the tests. England, Germany, Central and South America and Cuba, all were heard this country.

Eighteen persons in the metropolitan district received the program broadcast from station 2LO in London, although that station had not been previously announced as broadcasting.

Other New York and New Jersey stations also picked up Hamburg Berlin, Edinburgh, Buenos Aires, Madrid, Glasgow and Lima. The South American stations were picked up with relative ease, it was reported, on the Pacific coast, and in the west.

Fans in Chicago reported they had heard Prague, London, Brussels and Havana more clearly than on preceding nights of the test, but still with small volume.

21 Stations Heard.

NEW YORK, Jan. 29—(By the Associated Press)—Radio fans who have been straining their ears to catch Europe during the third international radio tests, tonight will turn their attention to broadcasting in the western hemisphere only.

The European end of the tests was completed last night with a record of twenty-one foreign stations heard during the five nights of broadcasting.

Tonight at 11 o'clock, eastern standard time, stations in the Atlantic and eastern time belt will be on the air for fifteen minutes. The essential belt will have the next fifteen minutes, the mountain belt the third quarter and the Pacific coast the last quarter.

Programs from England, German, Central and South America and Cuba were heard with remarkable clarity in this country this week.

Stations picked up included: Glasgow and Edinburgh, Scotland; Plymouth, London, Liverpool, Manchester and Birmingham, England; Hamburg, Berlin and Breslau, Germany; Madrid, Spain; Buenos Aires, Argentine; Lima Peru; Prague, Czechos-Slovakia; Brussels, Belgium; Havana, Cuba; San Juan, Porto Rico; Vienna, Austria; Moscow, Russia; Mexico City and Canada.

Coolidge Informed Farm Policies are Not Satisfactory

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—(AP)—O. E. Bradfute, former president of the American Farm Bureau Federation told President Coolidge Thursday not to take too much stock in reports that the administration's farm policies are unsatisfactory to the west.

Despite some rumblings of dissatisfaction, Mr. Bradfute said, many farmers are in accord with the relief program outlined by the president in his various public utterances on the subject.

The surplus crop question, he also assured the president, is not as great a factor in the corn belt as in the wheat belt. He saw little to be gained by organization of an export corporation and suggested that for the present it would be enough to create a farm board with wide powers to study the agricultural problem and aid farmers in solving their difficulties.

City Briefs

Adams County Appeals.—From a $3,000 damage judgement which Mary C. Kelley obtained against it for personal injuries caused by her automobile running off a bridge and turning over, Adams county has appealed to the state supreme court. The woman suffered 3 broken ribs and was otherwise disabled, and she sued for $10,000. The accident occurred near Ayr.

More Derricks at Capitol.—Now that most of the heavy concrete foundation pillars for the inside section of the new capitol are in place and portions of the basement walls and floors have been constructed, several more derricks are being installed to handle steel beams and stone blocks when work begins on the superstructure. Some of the structural steel has already been piled up in a convenient place. The contractor expects to start building operations above the basement in the near future. This will be in the center and toward the west end, where the foundation work is farthest advanced.

NEW SING SING EXECUTIONER

Identity Unknown, But Wears No Mask Or Robe At First Execution.

OSSINING, N. Y., Jan. 29.—(By the Associated Press.)—Sing Sing's new executioner, a bit nervous and shrouded in mystery, has officiated at his first execution in the death house.

Late last night he threw the switch twice, sending Emil Klatt and Luigi Rapito, convicted murderers, to their death. He did not wear a mask or robe, as had been announced, but did preserve carefully the secret of his identity.

None of those present knew him as he strode down the corridor with quick, nervous steps, and went about his task. He appeared to be about 60 years old.

The new executioner succeeds John Hulbert, who resigned some time ago. He has kept his name hidden at the request of Warden Lawes.

Chicagoan Hanged.

CHICAGO, Jan. 29. — (By the Associated Press.)—Campbell McCarthy, 19-year-old negro, was hanged in the county jail this morning for the killing of a watchman in a holdup.

Last minute efforts to save him, successful several weeks ago a few hours before the time set for his hanging, were abandoned after Governor Small denied executive clemency and three judges refused stays of execution when pleas were made that the Supreme court had not been given time to review the case.

The previous execution was postponed on an insanity plea but a jury later pronounced him sane.

Eight others, two of them participants in the daring Drake hotel robbery last summer, are in the jail awaiting execution.

Favorable Report On Nomination Of Tennessee Judge

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29—(AP)—An unanimous favorable report on the nomination of Federal Judge Harry B. Anderson of the Western Tennessee district, was ordered by the senate judiciary committee.

SHOW CULVERTS BELOW STANDARD

Tests Reveal Material Too Weak For Highway Use.

As a result of compression tests lately made at the University of Nebraska on several carloads of samples of concrete culvert such as has heretofore been used in constructing state highways, many of them were found to be too weak to meet the federal government's requirmnt as to th amount of weight they must be capable of carrying.

The strength standard fixed by federal engineers is 1,800 pounds to th lineal foot, multiplied by the number of feet in the diametrical dimension of the culvert. For a two-foot culvert the requirement would be 3,600 pounds per lineal foot; for one 3 feet in diameter, 5,400 pounds; and so on.

Among the specimens tested, which failed to stand up, some are reported to have broken down under 500 pounds weight, and others at varying points up to 1,300 pounds. It is unofficially declared that 90 per cent of those examined did not meet the requirement. Tests were made by Prof. C. M. Duff of the university, for State Engineer Cochran.

Mr. Duff, when asked about the matter, said he would prefer to have the information come from the state engineer's office rather than himself. He admitted, however, that a considerable proportion of the asmples inspected were unsatisfactory.

Most of these culverts are made in Nebraska, at half a dozen different places. They have been used to a very large extent o nthe highways already built. None will be accepted herafter, however, unless they come up to standard. This will compel the makers to put in more reinforcement metal and change the paln of construction. One necessary change will be using two lines of metal near the edges, instea dof one in the middle.

The state engineer's office will receive bids February 24, 25 and 26 on highway projects estimated to cost $1,750,000, more or less. Hundreds of concrete culverts are included in the specification, and steel culverts will also be used.

MUST ANSWER JOHNSON CHARGE

Judge McCamant Before Senate Body For Supporting Wood In 1920.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29—(By the Associated Press)—Wallace M. McCamant of Oregon, who is serving as a judge of the Ninth federal circuit under a recess appointment, was called today bfore the senate judiciary committee to answer publicly charges, lodged against him by Senator Johnson, republican, California.

The complaint goes back to the days of the republican national convention at Chicago in 1920 where Judge McCamant nominated Calvin Coolidge for the vice presidency and so led the convention in a stampede which upset plans of the party leaders to name Senator Lenroot, republican, Wisconsin, as a running mate of Warren G. Harding.

Senator Johnson charges that in voting for Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood for the presidential nomination, McCamant violated his pledge to the voters of Oregon to support at Chicago th candidate winning in the Oregon preferential presidential primary. Senator Johnson was the winner.

LATE CARDINAL'S BODY ENTOMBED

Great Throng Views Ceremony Of a Deeply Religious Character.

MALINES, Belgium, Jan. 29.—(By the Associated Press.) — The body of Belgium's heroic war cardinal, Desire Mercier, was enshrined today in Malines, the seat of his archbishopric, and the scene of his long years of struggle and triumph.

From the archepiscopal palace, to which it had been returned after yesterday's elaborate state funeral in Brussels, the casket was borne in solemn procession, preceded by a great silver cross to the Cathedral of St. Rombaut and there entombed in the crypt.

The entire route from the palace to the cathedral was lined with soldiers, who presented arms as the cortege slowly passed, while the great crowds bowed and the men uncovered in the rain in token of respect to their great spiritual leader and fellow patriot.

The ceremony was of a deeply religious character, with less of pageantry than marked the service in the capital.

Kneel Before Casket.

The procession started shortly before 10 o'clock when the casket was carried down the steps of the palace by twelve bearers. Count De Merode, grand marshal of th Belgian court, with two officers, knelt before the coffin for a moment.

Then the count placed upon it the hat and robe of the dead cardinal, and Monsignor Heyten snior bishop of Belgium, recited the "de Profundis" in which many of the mourners joined.

A detachment of soldiers took their places at the head and the final march began. The casket was followed by delegations from all parts of the country including representatives of the various religious orders, delegations from foreign chapters, canons, prelates and bishops, with representatives of the king and royal family and of foreign monarchies.

Also in line were [illegible] of the Belgian cabinet, senators, deputies, generals, presidents and members of the provincial councils and courts, and several of the cardinals' relatives.

Scene of Solemn Splendor.

Hymns and prayers, chanted by the marchers, mingled with the strains of Chopin's funeral march, played by military bands, while the robes of the prelates, swaying as they walked, added to the solemn splendor of the scene.

As the procession neared the cathedral, the crush of the crowds became so great that gendarmes were unable to preserve order. Intent only upon entering the edifice to witness the final service many lost hats, umbrellas or other personal belongings, while several women fainted. A quarter of an hour elapsed before the military were able to restore order in front of the cathedral.

The service began at 11 o'clock, Bishop Waffelaert of Bruges, officiating. After the funeral oration, absolution was pronounced successively by five Belgian bishops, according to rank and age.

When the service was ended, the crowds which had been unable to enter the cathedral before, were admitted and thousands filed past the coffin before it was placed in the crypt.

Wainwright Asks Separate Corps Of Army Airmen

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—(AP).—Creation of a separate air corps of the army, analagous to the marine corps in the navy, was proposed Thursday in a bill by Representative Wainwright, republican, New York, a former assistant secretary of war, acting for the house military committee.

Another measure to provide for material revision of the air defense wa sintroduced by Representative French of Idaho, chairman of the naval appropriations sub-committee. It would provide for naval aviation pilots who would be designated as flight ensigns.

It would provide for an additional assistant secretary of war to supervise the air corps.

The corps would be commanded by a major general, and have three brigadier generals, 3,000 other officers, 1,500 flying cadets, seventy-five warrant officers and an enlisted strength of 18,000.

Briefly Told News From The Wires

WASHINGTON—(AP)—A bill was introduced in the house by Representative Brock, republican, Wisconsin, yesterday to provide for incorporating an United States Agricultural Co-operative Marketing association. The organization would be without capital stock and would be controlled by the producers of the crop. The treasury would advance the association a sum to be repaid within ten years. The association would dispose of the crop and otherwise aid the farmers.

COLDS THAT DEVELOP INTO PNEUMONIA

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood attack the eat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

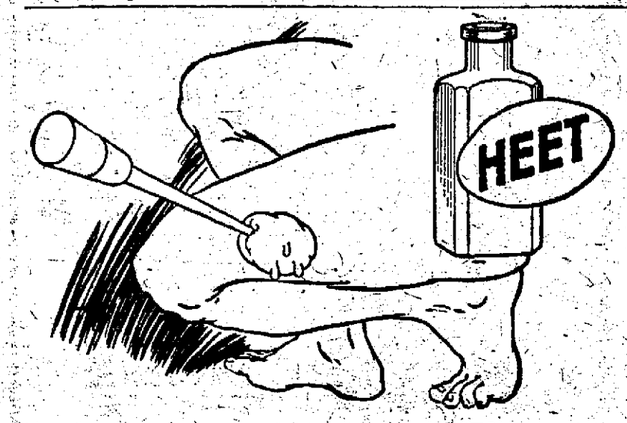

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. Creomulsion Company, Atlanta, Ga.—Advertisement.

Former Nebraska Gridder Bids for Fame in Ring

Brother Wayne in Spotlight Now; Swiped His Stuff From Monte.

BY DAVIS J. WALSH.

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—(I. N. S.)—Look around carefully, select your nearest exit and run—don't walk. It may be vitally necessary that you either beat your neighbor to the street or to a pulp, depending entirely upon personal preference.

We have had one member of the Munn family, maiden name Wayne, as a boxing wrestler or a wrestling boxer or something. It seems we are about to have another, only this one is alleged to entertain no uncertainty as t owhat profession he may adorn.

WAYNE STOLE HIS STUFF.

Monte, brother of the former wrestling champion, hove into view today, presumably as a heavyweight boxer, and with him came an alleged expose of Wayne as a gentleman who cashed in on a college reputation that belonged to Monte and none other. At least, this was the allegation of Jack Curley, the esteemed promoter who is understood to have done his share of alleging at odd moments.

Wayne was supposed to have been quite a football player at Nebraska. According to Curley, the football player was Monte. Wayne was said to have been heavyweight boxing champion at the university. Monte again, Curley declares.

ALREADY HAS A MANAGER.

Jack, by the way, merely is Monte's best friend and severest critic. He says he is not managing him, that honor being intended for Dan Hickey, manager of Paul Berlenbach. Anyhow, Curley denied that he had any ulterior interest in Monte, managerial or otherwise. This was his only denial. The rest of the time he spent in admitting things.

He admitted, as recorded, that Monte was the college champion and Wayne merely had cashed in on his younger brother's reputation. He admitted that Monte had a political career before him in Nebraska and that he, Jack Curley, had attempted to dissuade the young man from his intention of stepping out with the competitive piano movers one finds nowadays in New York rings. Monte, he said, had thought the matter over for two weeks and had returned today more determined than ever to dally with the big chins and find out what it was all about.

PLOTS TO HAVE HIS FLING.

As for Monte, he admitted nothing. He wouldn't even admit that whitewash wasn't buttermilk. He said he was looking around and the writer regrets that he forgot to warn him about Lot's well-known wife. It was whispered that the youth plans to get himself a bout or two here, and failing to make a distinct impression, either on an opposing jowl or on the public, to forget the incident promptly and call it a career.

He is what might be called Wayne's little brother, being only six feet four inches tall. It's a long way to fall, at that.

Finn Fizzle On Ice; Only One Nurmi

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—(AP)—Clas Thunberg's defeat in every skating start on this side of the Atlantic goes far toward strengthening the oft heard assertion that the Finns are great athletes, but that there is only one Paavo Nurmi.

Nurmi, marvel of runners at the Olympics, came to America last winter and was almost always victorious, beating American veterans at their own game.

Stenroos Also "Bust."

Then came Albin Stenroos, Olympic marathon champion, but he failed by far to gain the prestige that Nurmi had known. Stenroos is the Olympic Marathon champion.

Thunberg lost two indoor races in New York. Then he went to St. John, where, in the outdoor title meet just closed, he obtained one third place in a series of races. He is expected to appear in the United States championships at Binghamton, N. Y., starting Sunday.

FUSS IN MAJORS OVER RESIN BALL

National Favors Old Plan To Aid Pitchers, But Ban Johnson Says Nix.

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—(AP)—Resin, a commodity necessary to violinists, pugilists and trapeze performers, threatens to raise a whirling cloud of dust in the realm of baseball.

The matter of re-introducing the substance to the national game will come before the annual session of the baseball rules officials here today. President Heydler of the National league, seeking to curb the steadily mounting destruction of baseballs in major league play, has recommended that the substance be made available to pitchers that they may better control the ball.

Suggests Resin Bag.

He would have a bag of resin placed within reach of the boxmen, to be dealt out at the discretion of the umpires. Under present conditions, when a pitcher throws two or three wild ones in a row, a new ball is called for and the old one, to all intents and purposes, goes out of the major leagues.

The proposal came forth during the meetings of the league here in December and there was an effort to gain the American league's interest.

Cicotte's Famous Sailer.

President Johnson of the American league named Umpire George Moriarty, former Detroit player, to investigate the matter for that circuit and Moriarty, making tests in Chicago yesterday, showed much "stuff." He insisted that he had duplicated the famous sailer produced by Eddie Cicotte of the White Sox.

Ban Johnson Opposed.

NEW YORK, Jan 29.—(AP)—President Johnson of the American league has placed in the hands of the American league members of the rules committee a complete report on the use of resin by a pitcher on a baseball.

At a recent meeting of the major leagues in New York the National circuit favored the use of resin, with the American opposing, but later President Johnson of the junior circuit instructed Umpire George Moriarty to make a thorough investigation of the subject.

Proves His Claim.

Johnson believes that the demonstration, as given by Moriarty, substantiates his claim that the use of resin will enable the pitchers to bring back many of the freak deliveries which have been so objectionable.

The demonstration of resin with a baseball proves that the seams can be raised and the cover roughened until, in the hands of a pitcher schooled in its use, there would be such a delivery to the batter that said batter would be well nigh helpless," Mr. Johnson said.

Iowa Line Coach Modest Gridder

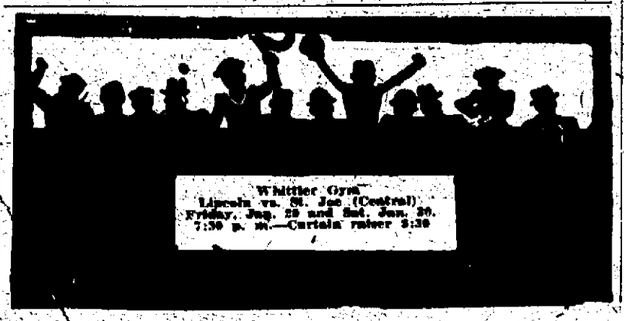

IOWA CITY, Ia., Jan. 29.—The name of Chester I. Mead, who was recently appointed Iowa line coach, stands beside that of Devine, Locke, Brokins and Laude as one of the most modest Hawkeye athletes. He was a guard on the championship football teams of 1921 and 1922 and was so modest that he did not mind if credit for playing all of the classic Yale game went to another man.

Press reports from New Haven after that 6 to 0 Iowa victory carried the name of Kriz, a substitute in the Hawkeye lineup, at the right guard position. When on the Monday after the game the Hawkeyes, heroes of the campus, returned to Iowa City, Mead was asked why he didn't play.

"I played all the game," was his ply. "But what's the use of mentionit, as long as some man was in there doing the work."

METHODIST FIVE TROUNCES DOANE

WESLEYAN VS. COTNER.

Nebraska Wesleyan and Cotner college, old-time rivals of the court, will meet in basketball at Bethany tonight. The game is scheduled for 8 p. m.

BY GREGG M'BRIDE.

A Nebraska Wesleyan basketball machine which floundered and sputtered about for twenty minutes hit its stride in the second half Thursday night and turned in a 24-10 victory over the Doane college Tigers.

The Congregationalists battled the Methodists on even terms during the first half, the score at the halfway mark being 8-all, with both teams putting up a ragged exhibition of the indoor pastime. In the second half, the Doane defense which was so effective during the opening period, went on the rocks and, the Methodists tossers ran wild for seven baskets from the floor.

Wesleyan Had Speed.

The Wesleyan five seemed a trifle faster than the Doane quintet. This was especially true on the defense, Methodist guards continually intercepting Tiger passes or breaking up efforts of the Doane tossers to score at close range. Center Lally and Guards Boell and Loder were particularly effective in presenting a stone wall defense, a pair of long baskets by Forward Wolff representing the field goals chalked up by the Crete collegians.

The first half was a ragged exhibition of basket-shooting, both teams finding little difficulty at working the ball up the court but continually shooting wide of the hoop.

Doane Scored First.

Doane scored first when Kubicek counted a point from the foul line. Steeves evened the score for Wesleyan a few minutes later with a gift toss, but the Bengals regained the advantage when Frundell scored on a free throw.

Lally made a follow-in shot to spend the Methodists in the lead and the Wesleyan five was making pace the remainder of the contest. Wolff's two sensational shots from mid-court enabled Doane to close the period with the score 8-all, Gembler having counted two additional baskets for Wesleyan.

Calvert Breaks the Tie.

The second half started like a repitition of the first, the two teams milling up and down the court for five minutes before Al Calvert broke loose for a set-up shot beneath the basket. Steeves followed in short order with a nice tally from back of the foul ring.

The sudden turn of affairs seemed to disconcert the Doane five, the Methodists having little difficulty in penetrating the Doane defense the remainder of the game.

Doane and Wesleyan will tangle with the two leading teams in the conference Friday night. The Tigers will entertain Coach Lon Graff's Peru Normal team at Crete, while Wesleyan will journey over to the neighboring suburfb for a tussl from Coach Parminter's Cotner Bulldogs. The score:

College Runners In Chicago Meet

CHICAGO, Jan. 29.—(AP)—A two-mile relay, in which teams from Notre Dame, Ames and Marquette will compete, features the ninth annual indoor handicap track and field meet of the Illinois A. C. here tonight.

Notre Dame and Marquette also are entered in the 1 7-8 medley relay. Other events are between high school and athletic club teams.

Benedict Quint At Havelock Hi

The fast Benedict high school five is scheduled to meet Havelock high on the Havelock court tonight. A curtain-raiser featuring the two reserves teams is scheduled for 7 p. m., the main game being booked for 8 p. m.

Benedict gave York and Lincoln real arguments early in the season and Havelock is expecting a brisk tussle.

Columbus At Uni Place.

Columbus will meet University Place high in basketball at University Place tonight. The two teams are booked to get together at 8 o'clock.

Gopher Alumni Urging Game With Nebraska U.

Minnesota Weekly Voices Sentiment Favorable to Grid Relations With Cornhuskers and Other Schools In Valley; Gopher Heads Weary of Big Ten Methods and May Seek New Foes.

St. Paul Dispatch: A suggestion, wrapped in a certain garb of authority, that the University of Minnesota turn toward the Missouri Valley conference for its competition in the future and ignore the Western conference, in which it is not a wholly welcome member, is made this week in the Minnesota Alumni Weekly, official publication of the alumni of the university.

This suggestion results from a consideration of the 1926 football schedule, on which Minnesota was forced to schedule Michigan twice for want of another Big Ten opponent.

The Entering Wedge.

Such a thing may happen one year by accident but, if it happens again or if anything like it happens in the future, it will certainly necessitate action on the part of the Gophers and this hint in the Alumni Weekly that the Valley conference might be approached, using games with Nebraska, Drake and Kansas Aggies as the opening wedge, is not a bad one. In fact, it is the only one.

If the Gophers are too rough and rugged for the more polite and refined members of the Western conference, there seems to be nothing to do but turn to the sturdy farmer boys of the Missouri Valley, where they can mingle with their own kind and where, so far as public knowledge goes, one can always get a game whether one has a ground-gaining shift or not.

Valley Has the Material.

As a matter of fact, there is very little difference between the quality of football played in the two leagues now. The Valley conference, perhaps, has better material and the Big Ten has more highly developed coaching systems. When the Valley schools get the coaches they will stand easily even with the Big Ten and, in time, no doubt, surpass it.

There is no reason why Minnesota should not form an informal alliance with the Valley and accept games there at any time Big Ten schools show a tendency to avoid her. The time might easily come when the alliance would be more than informal, for Missouri Valley football will, in a few years, be the very finest football with which to be affiliated.

(Editor's Note: Should Minnesota turn its face toward the Valley conference, Nebraska would be the Gophers most logical choice. The gate receipts phase inevitably would factor in Minnesota's decision. A Nebraska-Minnesota game, played in Lincoln, undoubtedly would draw 30,000 to 40,000 spectators to the Nebraska stadium. And the Cornhuskers probably would be a prime attraction in Minneapolis. Beginning in 1900 and ending in 1919, Cornhuskers and Gophers competed in 14 games. The record of this prolonged exchange discloses that Minnesota was a consistent winner, yet Nebraska trounced the Gophers in 1902 and 1913 and held the northerners to a 6-6 tie in 1919, after which Dr. Williams, then coach at Minnesota, decided that the Cornhuskers were progressing too rapidly in the gridiron sport, so he summarily dropped the game from his list. Efforts to restore relations during recent years have been made by the Nebraska authorities and it is a matter of record that a two-year agreement was tentatively entered into last fall, the negotiations falling when the Gophers framed their two-game arrangement with Michigan. Assurance that Minnesota alumni are agitating a Minnesota-Nebraska game is a favorable sign. At the Cornhusker institution it is conceded that a Minnesota-Nebraska game would be a most desirable arrangement. If continued through a chain of years, such a game would take rank as one of the classics of western football. Come right in Minnesota! The water's fine!)

FARRELL VICTOR IN DIXIE CLASSIC

Tampa Expert Noses Ahead Of Hagen In Last Day Of Sanford Tourney.

BY ROBERT E. HARLOW.

Farrell nosed out Walter Hagen by one shot in the 72-hole event which drew a fine assortment of European and American professionals. Farrell's rounds were 71-73-71-70—285. Hagen's scores were 73-69-74-70—286.

Compston Finishes Third.

Archie Compston, the professional champion of Great Britain, in his first tournament start in a new and strange land, helped his prestige in America when he played the last round in 67 shots, the best score made and two under the course record. Compston finished in third position with a grand total of 288 and his 139 for 36 holes was the best of the tournament.

Ingram Brothers Placed In Charge Of Navy Athletics

Formal announcement was also made of the appointment of Commander Jonas H. Ingram, older brother of "Navy Bill" and himself a former Navy gridiron star, as athletic director of the academy to replace Commander Byron L. McCandless, who has been assigned to sea duty.

It is believed at the academy that Commander Ingram will himself take active charge of the football squad, as head coach with "Navy Bill" acting as his assistant.

Basketball Secrets.

BY SOL METZGER.

TO START A DRIBBLE.

Sometimes when the ball is passed to a player coming down the court on offense, he finds his opponent charging the ball immediately. The way to free one's self of this opponent and to avoid a held ball at the same time is for the player to feint to the left and then to the right, extending the right arm in order to start a dribble at the same time. In this feint the player does not advance with the ball. He simply dodges to the side of his opponent as he starts his dribble, as shown in the upper illustration.

In the lower illustration such a player does not know this stunt. As his opponent is charging directly into him, he will either lose the ball or a held ball will be called.

Dog Derby Won By St. Goddard's Hounds

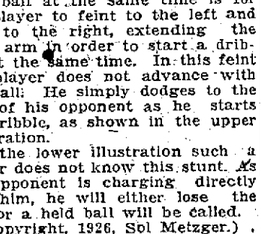

THE PAS, Man., Jan. 29.—(AP)—Emil St. Goddard won the final lap and race in the three-day dog derby here Thursday in nine hours 27½ minutes. Earl Brydges was two minutes behind the winner and Harry Olensky third. Brydges once went into the lead during the final lap, but St. Goddard and his hounds had the spurting qualities and superior endurance to overtake Brydges, regaining the advantage.

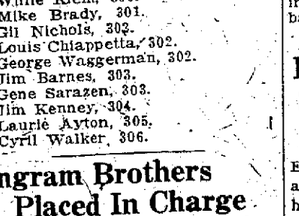

Canadian Skater World's Champion

ST. JOHN, N. B., Jan. 29.—(AP)—Charles Gorman of St. John won the world's amateur skating championship Thursday by winning both the 440-yard and five mile races in the world amateur skating meet. Willie Logan of St. John was second in the five-mile event and Duke Donovan of Endicott City, N. Y., third. Time 18 minutes 7 seconds.

COAST GIRL ACTS ON TILDEN'S TIP

OFFERS ODDS ON SUZANNE.

CANNES, Jan. 29.—(I. N. S.)—Sydney Beer, an English sportsman, has wagered 30,000 against 10,000 francs that Helen Wills will not take six games in two sets with Suzanne Langlen, it was reported here today.

CANNES, France, Jan. 29.—(AP)—Helen Wills apparently has adopted the suggestion of "Big Bill" Tilden to "knock the cover off the ball." The girl from California yesterday in one of her matches at the Gallia tournament showed Miss Cadle, her opponent, a brand of speed and accuracy of placement, that even the strong arm of Mrs. Molla Mallory probably was unable to work up in her championship days.

Tilden expressed the belief that only by shooting the ball with sizzling speed could Helen possibly overcome the crafty Suzanne Lenglen. Keen observers of the game here have expressed the same opinion.

SHOWS HER FULL SPEED.

In the morning against Mlle. Vlasto she wore a pale green sweater, which matched the character of her game. In the afternoon the University of California girl had on for the first time a cardinal red sweater, the color of her rival seat of learning, Leland Stanford.

SMACKED EVERY BALL.

In this sweater Miss Wills uncorked the best tennis she ever has shown in Europe. She literally tore in against the English girl and smacked every ball as though she desired to burst it, accompanying every stroke with Seldom before had she ever taken such chances at outs and nets. Observers thought that no woman player would have been able to return some of her placements. The only weakness she showed was in her overhead game.

Owing to the splendid showing in speed and strength made by Miss Wills against Miss Cadle, the betting odds on the outcome of the Lenglen-Wills match have receded from 10 to 6 to 9 to 7.

CHICAGOAN SHOWS CLASS.

Allister McCormick of Chicago is also another revelation in American tennis on the Riviera. Yesterday he reached the semi-final in the Gallia tournament by defeating Lord Charles Hope of England, 6-2, 6-1.

Amateurism in Jeopardy.

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—(AP)—Miss Helen Wills is jeopardizing her amateur eligibility, if, as reported, she has been writing current newspaper articles on her tournament play in France, Jones W. Merseau, president of the U. S. Lawn tennis association, declared.

Big Leaguer Balks On Going to Minors

SCRANTON, Pa., Jan. 28.—(AP)—Mike McNally, formerly of the Boston Red Sox, Washington Senators and New York Yankees, will retire from baseball rather than go back to the minors. McNally, who was sold by the Yankees to Buffalo of the International league, plans to enter the automobile business here. He played 12 years in organized baseball—ten of these in the major leagues.

Kearney Normal Defeats Zebras In 32-25 Game

GRAND ISLAND, Neb., Jan. 29.—Kearney Normal defeated Grand Island college in basketball here last night, 32 to 25. It was one of the most exciting games played on the Zebra court this season.

Kearney led 18-8 at half-time, but a brilliant rally by the Baptists at the start of the second period evened the count and the two quintets battled along on even terms until the last few minutes of play. Huber carried off scoring honors for Kearney with 8 field goals. Morris led the Grand Island with six baskets. The score:

Odell Cagesters Busy Preparing For Tough Slate

ODELL, Neb., Jan. 29.—Odell high faces a heavy basketball schedule the next two weeks and Coach A. J. Cochrane and the squad are engaging in some extensive preparations for turning in a string of victories.

Odell will meet Virginia Saturday, Dewitt Tuesday, Liberty Friday and Beatrice Y. M. C. A. Saturday.

"Y" Cage Results.

Lincoln Sports trounced the Lawler Sports in an Association league game of basketball Thursday night on the Y. M. C. A. court, 42 to 6. The Central Cafes trimmed the Continental Oils in an Industrial league game, 18 to 14.

In the Sunday School league, Trinity Lutheran defeated University Place M. E. in class A, 41 to 12. Trinity M. E. swamped St. Marks in class B, 25 to 4. University Place M. E. No. 2 won a 17 to 2 victory over Tabernacle Christian in class C. Grace M. E. No. 1 scored a 2-0 victory over First Plymouth No. 1 in class D.

DUNDEE IN FINAL COMEBACK TRIAL

Grizzled Veteran of Glove Sport Tackles Glick In New York Arena.

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—(I. N. S.)—Veteran of fifteen competitive years and more than four hundred bouts, Johnny Dundee tonight will make another attempt to stave off the inevitable reckoning in a 10-round glove bout with Joe Glick, one of the leading contenders for Tod Morgan's title. It will be Dundee's first appearance since last summer, when he dropped several decisions to Sid Terris.

In the semi-final, Joe Dundee of Baltimore will meet Joe Simonich of Butte, Mont., and a third 10-rounder will bring together Ray Miller of Chicago and Johnny Drew.

Alliance Hi Hands Potter a Reverse

ALLIANCE, Neb., Jan. 29.—Alliance high school handed Potter its first defeat of the season when the Box Butte county five won a 19 to 14 game last night. Potter has scored seven consecutive victories before meeting defeat.

Chadron High Wins.

CHADRON, Neb., Jan. 29.—Chadron high won its seventh victory of the season last night by defeating crawford, 22 to 14.

Bucky Talks Swap To St. Louis Club

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—(A.P.)—Bucky Harris, manager of the Washington Americans, still is angling for "Bullet Joe" Bush of the St. Louis Browns to bolster up his 1926 pitching staff.

Back from Florida to prepare for spring training, Harris said he had offered the Browns a trade for Bush and Outfielder Johnny Tobin and that he thought the deal would go through.

Red and Black Dates Chicago Team in Football

Lincoln Hi Plucks Rich 'Grid' Plum

LINCOLN GRID SLATE.
Oct. 9—Hastings at Hastings.
Oct. 16—Beatrice at Lincoln.
Oct. 30—Grand Island at Grand Island.
Nov. 6—Omaha Tech at Lincoln.
Nov. 13—Norfolk at Norfolk.
Nov. 23—Lane Tech of Chicago at Lincoln.

BY GREGG M'BRIDE.

Signing of Lane Technical high school of Chicago for a Thanksgiving day football game at the University of Nebraska Memorial stadium was announced by Coach W. H. Browne of Lincoln high Friday morning.

Addition of the Chicago game to the Lincoln schedule assures Lincoln fans a top-notch football attraction here for Thanksgiving day in view of the fact that the Cornhuskers will travel to Washington for a Turkey day game next season. The contest also makes the Lincoln high grid slate one of the most attractive in Red and Black grid history.

LARGEST IN U. S. A.

Lane is the largest Technical high school in the United States, with an enrollment of 4,500 boys as compared with 1,100 boys registered at Lincoln high. Lane Tech is the recognized sport leader in Chicago interscholastic circles, holding a string of city titles.

Along with the Lane announcement came the news that Lincoln and Omaha Central would probably not meet on the gridiron next fall. Failure to agree on a suitable date is the reason assigned for the failure of the two rivals to sign on the dotted line for a return contest.

OMAHA TECH IN LINCOLN.

Before Notre Dame had cancelled a Nov. 6 engagement with the Cornhuskers, Coaches Browne and Schmidt had tentatively agreed on that date for the game. When the date was declared open on the Nebraska schedule, it was necessary that Browne schedule a home game, as the Lincoln gridsters play at home only when the Cornhuskers are on foreign gridirons or there is an open date on the Nebraska schedule. Lincoln then closed with Omaha Tech for Nov. 6.

OFFERS THREE DATES.

Lincoln officials are willing to arrange a game for Oct. 2, Oct 23 or Nov. 20, the three dates remaining open on the Lincoln book.

Beatrice and Omaha Tech are home games already booked. The Lincoln team is scheduled to play at Hastings, Grand Island and Norfolk. Coach Loyal P. Thomas' Norfolk gridders being a new team on the Lincoln high schedule.

Lincoln High In Pink for Contest With St. Joseph

The Lincoln basket tossers will meet their traditional cage rivals, the St. Joseph Central quintet from Missouri, at 7:30 Friday evening in the first of a series of two basketball contests to be staged on the Whittier junior high court. A preliminary tilt, booked for 6:30 will see the Lincoln reserves playing a second-string squad from another high school or the Wesleyan freshman.

The 'show me' boys, after having displayed their wares on Missouri courts to the satisfaction of all concerned, are expected to make things hot for the local outfit and possibly break the Red and Black's no-defeat record.

Regardless of which team wins the initial tilt, the game on the following night will be just as interesting, for each squad figures that it will have a score to settle by reason of the outcome of last season's contests. The Centralities won the first game last year by a large margin, but the locals staged a rally the next evening and nosed out the Missourians by one-point.

Only Few Cases Of Golfer Doing 27 Holes in 100

CHICAGO, Jan. 29.—(AP)—Breaking 100 is as much the goal for the greatest golf experts as it is for the veriest duffer at the game and the star finds his objectives just as difficult to attain. The difference lies in the fact that the champion wants to cover 27 holes in 100, while the garden variety desires only to score that number of strikes for 18 holes.

How much more difficult the experts' goal is of attainment, is shown by the fact that only in a few instances and under favorable circumstances has a star performer totalled 100 for 27 holes.

Bobby and Hagen.

Bobby Jones did it once and so did Walter Hagen. Bill Mehlhorn turned the trick at Youngstown in the final day of the Western open to finish runner-up to MacDonald Smith, and there have been a few other instances. A most invariably these scores have been recorded on links that were pronounced comparatively easy.

There is no disgrace in the inability of the stars to reach this goal, for it means that they must average three strokes or four to the hole on each nine. To do this they must acquire a dozen birdies and probably a pair of eagles for their cards.

BURCHARD HI WINNER.

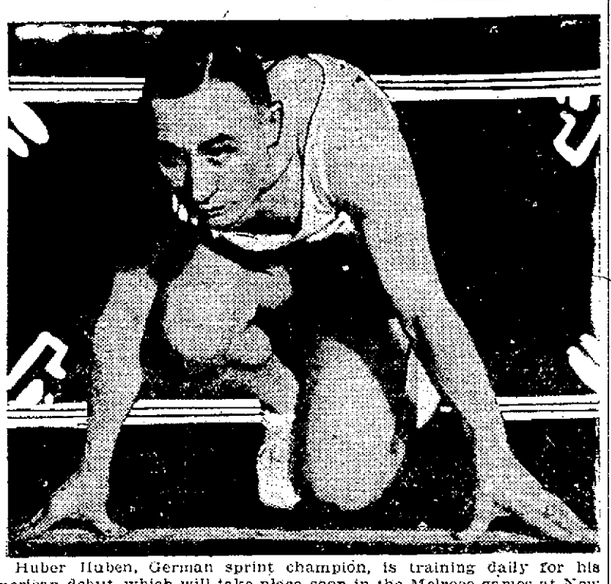

BURCHARD, Neb., Jan. 29.—Burchard high defeated Beattie, Kas., in basketball here Wednesday, 25 to 14. The Beattie reserves won from the Burchard reserves, 25 to 14. McLaughlin of Burchard led the scoring with 12 points. The locals play Lewiston here tonight.

Summary:

Burchard—	Pos.	—Beattie
McLaughlin	f	Totten
Le Urich	f	Brown
Wolfe	c	Jones
Moffitt	g	Graham
Schram	g	Rornbeck

Referee—Cuober, Cotner.

Here to Meet America's Best.

Huber Huben, German sprint champion, is training daily for his American debut, which will take place soon in the Melrose games at New York. He hopes to defeat Loren Murchison and Charley Paddock on their native soil, having already outrun the pair during their foreign tour last year.

Greb Busy Raking In Western Coin

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., Jan. 29.—(AP.)—Harry Greb, world's middleweight champion, hooks up with Buck Holly, Oakland, Cal., in a 10-round bout here tonight; his second fight within a week.

A special permit by the state athletic commission allows Greb to fight tonight, although but three days have elapsed since he defeated Ted Moore of England at Vernon, and makes it possible for him to meet Jimmy Delaney of St. Paul at Oakland next Wednesday.

HUSKER CAGERS ON IOWA TRIP

Beargmen Pull Away From Lincoln for Three Games In Hawkeye State.

The University of Nebraska basketball squad pulled away late this afternoon on a three-game invasion of Iowa soil. The Cornhuskers are scheduled to play at Grinnell Saturday at Ames Monday and at Drake Tuesday.

Members of the varsity making the trip are Captain Fred Ekstrom, Newman Grove Tom Elliott, West Point; Clark Smaha, Ravenna; Frank Mielenz, Stanton; Leon Sprague, York; Vint Lawson, Omaha; Ted Page, Crete; John Brown, Lincoln; Dorsey McIntyre, Lincoln; Phil Gerelick, Omaha. Student Manager Stebbins of Albion accompanied the team.

Helen Turns To Thoughts Of New Togs

CANNES, France, Jan. 29.—(AP) All of today's matches in the Gallia lawn tennis tournament, in which Miss Helen Wills, the American champion, is competing, were postponed because of rain.

BY FREDERICK K. ABBOTT

CANNES, Jan. 29.—(I.N.S.)—Suzanne Lenglen admires Helen Wil's' style—in clothes.

The French star and the American star have discussed styles together and Miss Wills has shown Mlle. Lenglen samples of goods for new dresses, as well as models, and Mlle. Lenglen approved thoroughly.

"I showed samples of my new dresses to Suzanne and she said they are 'chic,'" said Miss Wills today. "She ought to know, for she is one of the best dressed players I ever saw on the courts.

Snapped in New Dresses.

"My next photographs will show me in my new French dresses and I am telling all the photographers to wait, for I want the folks at home to see me in my new dresses."

Miss Wills is undoubtedly having a struggle to keep her mind entirely upon tennis, for the Paris model houses have besieged her and have been most anxious to display their latest fashions to her.

"It's hard to keep one's money in one's pocket, when everything is so beautiful," she said.

Speeds Up Her Game.

The Riviera weather has turned slightly colder and Miss Wills has speeded up her game considerably to keep warm. Her game yesterday afternoon was fast and flashy and rather more daring than any she has displayed here. In fact she showed so well yesterday that the odds against her beating Suzanne have shortened slightly and what was once considered a sure thing bet isn't so sure now.

Miss Wills had another day of rest today as heavy rains made it necessary to call off all matches. There was but slight chance that the weather would clear in time for any matches to be played in the late afternoon.

"OX" HAS GOODS AS SHOT-PUTTER

"Big Ox" Krimelmeyer furnished the fireworks for Coach Henry F. Schulte's Cornhusker track tryouts Thursday afternoon, the trials being preliminary to the selection of the Nebraska team which will compete at the K. C. A. C. indoor meet Feb. 5.

The "Ox," who was the shot-putter on the University of Nebraska track squad last spring and hurled the iron ball for points in the Valley indoor and outdoor meets, stretched out to within two inches of the varsity record during the Thursday trials.

Lacks Little of Record.

Krimelmeyer heaved the 16-pound shot 44 feet 7 inches—two inches under the varsity mark held by Fred Dale, present coach at Wayne Normal. "Krim's" effort was the result of an extended argument with Ashburn, freshman shot-putter and present holder of the Nebraska interscholastic record in the 12-pound event. Ashburn was setting the pace with a mark of 44 feet 9 inches when Krimelmeyer stepped into the ring for his last trial. The result was Krim's high mark for the season.

Perly Wyatt equalled his last week's performance of 52.8 in the 440-yard dash. He sprinted the distance ahead of Davenport of Norfolk. Wyatt also beat out Hein in a 50-yard sprint with 5.7.

Locke and Weir Ailing.

Roland Locke coasted a 50-yards in 5.8, after jogging a half-mile in an effort to rid himself of muscle bruises which may keep him from entering the K. C. A. C. meet.

Ed Weir, hurdler, probably will not be among the Nebraska competitors at the Kaysee meet. Weir hobbled about the stadium with the aid of a cane, being the victim of an attack of neuritis.

Husker Wrestlers Ready.

Members of the University of Nebraska wrestling team that will meet the Kansas Aggies in the first dual meet of the season Saturday night at 7:30 have finished their active training for the match.

115-pound—Walgren.
125-pound—Shopp.
135-pound—Hendrix or Lobenstein.
145-pound—Hinz or Koerner.
158-pound—Koerner.
175-pound—Lumm.
Heavyweight—Pearson.

DEMPSEY'S CAFE IS MONEY-MAKER

Champion's New Business Venture Is Raking In Fat Profits.

Gives Employment As Dish Washers to String Of Former Fighters.

BY COPELAND C. BURG.

LOS NGELES, Jan. 29.—(I. N. S.)—Jack Dempsey has opened a new cafe in Los Angeles and it's proving a money-maker.

The heavyweight boxing champion's latest business venture is located next to his hotel, but the guests of his hostelry are only a small part of the crowd visiting the cafe.

Every evening during dinner, Dempsey walks through the cafe several times. Usually he eats dinner there. Often his wife, Estelle Taylor, the actress, dines with him.

SEEK LOOK AT GLOVE KING.

Around the cafe, which is on a corner, low windows face the streets and here is a favorite spot for small boys of Los Angeles. Almost any hour during the early evening, one may glance from Dempsey's tables to the windows to see youngsters pointing soiled fingers at the heavyweight.

Grown-ups, too, frequently crowd about the cafe, seeking an intimate look at the boxing king as he moves about the tables, nodding to friends and ordering about waiters and bellboys.

EMPLOYS OLD FIGHTERS.

Dempsey always has about him a score of former boxers, mostly sparring partners in the days of long ago.

His new cafe has given employment to many of these friends. It is said that even the dishwashers in the place are prizefighters and some of the cooks at one time held forth in the champion's training camps as employes of various kinds.

PROUD OF HIS SUCCESS.

"After all, I'm just a prizefighter," is a favorite remark of the champion. But he doesn't mean what he says.

He would much more prefer success in the business world than in the ring, according to his friends.

KEEN EYE FOR COIN.

The champion never took his screen appearances seriously. He went through several productions much after the fashion of a boy playing in high school theatricals. It was rather a lark, with little difference as to the outcome.

Yet, after the pictures were finished, Dempsey watched the box receipts carefully. Any money made by his screen productions brought him pleasure, because he was hopeful perhaps he could become a money-maker without employment of his hard fists.

Any attention Dempsey gives to the movies in the future will be from the theatre-owner or producer's side.

Passing Out of Real "Busher" Costs Romance

BY AL DEMAREE.

The typical "busher," as we used to know him ten or fifteen years ago making his first training trip with a big league ball club, is becoming more rare every year. The innocent and unsuspecting athlete from the small town, who would set up in the Pullman all night guarding the players shoes or sitting on the end of the last car to see that no train hit it in the rear during the night, is almost extinct.

There was a time that you could find five or six youngsters every spring who could be talked into putting on hook sliding practice in the hotel lobby with brass cuspidors as the bases. And there was always two or three who wanted to hold the bag "snipe hunting." The veterans would take the unsuspecting "busher" twenty miles out of town in an automobile at night and give him a bag were supposed to form a circle and drive the snipe into the bag. In reality, they jumped into the car and left the poor youngster holding the lantern and the bag. Eventually he got wise and then had a twenty-mile walk back to town alone, usually arriving the next morning.

The war, the radio or something has wised them up recently and taken a lot of romance out of spring training.

Jayhawk Easily Hangs Defeat On Grinnell Quint

GRINNELL, Ia., Jan. 29.—(AP)—The University of Kansas inaugurated its three-day basketball invasion of Iowa by defeating the Grinnell five, 36 to 19.

Outweighed, outreached and for most of the time outplayed the Pioneers offered but little resistance to the smoothly working Jayhawk passing attack, which sifted through the local defense time and again.

Kansas used its well known short pass system of offensive attack with good results. The score at the half-time saw the Jawhawkers leading, 13 to 6.

McGraw Displays Optimism Over 1926 Hurling Staff

Manager Muggsy Goes on Record With Prediction That His Giants Will Face Barrier With Pitching Crew of Rare Excellence; Rates His Flingers as Equals of Staff Which Won World's Title in 1905.

BY DAVIS J. WALSH.

NEW YORK, Jan. 29—(I. N. S.)—Being a professional optimist at heart, John McGraw recently opened his mouth and allowed as how the 1926 Giants will have their best pitching staff since the mellow, old championship days of 1905.

He made the observation while rubbing mental hands of great glee over the transaction that resulted in Jimmy Ring coming to the Polo Grounds, and the writer is inclined to believe that John spoke first and thought afterward, or else was meekly talking to hear his teeth rattle.

Nominates His Star.

Ring will top off a pitching staff embracing Kent Greenfield, Fred Fitzsimmons, Virgil Barnes, Art Nehf, Hugh McQuillan and a few casual others. If Greenfield and Fitzsimmons pay dividends on their 1925 promise, it will be better than any pitching staff McGraw has had since the war.

If they do not, it will be worse. Nehf is almost through and McQuillan is as unreliable as an elderly pair of suspenders. McGraw may be placing too much faith in Greenfield and Fitzsimmons. We have had one-year pitchers before.

Comparison Far Fetched.

However, granting that they all come through, there is little doubt that the 1926 staff will click with reasonable adequacy. But rate the collection above anything that operated here since 1905? It isn't being done.

The writer, for example, wouldn't like to trade the 1926 staff for Matty, Marquard, Tesreau and Crandall, who brought pennants here in 1912 and 1913. Nor would he see any reason to make the exchange for Matty, Marquard, Crandall, Wiltse and Ames, of the pennant-winning team of 1911.

Have Yet to Win Spurs.

As a matter of fact, it is not altogether certain that the 1926 staff figures to be as good as that of 1917, featuring Sallee, Benton and Schupp, left-handers all, and at the top of their stride at that, plus Tesreau and Perritt, right-handers.

All of those mentioned proved their ability over a stretch of several seasons, while the same cannot be said at this time for Fitzsimmons and Greenfield. Indeed, the former joined the club late in 1925 and didn't pitch more than a half-dozen games.

He was good then, but the writer would prefer to see more of him and say less, pending developments.

Spanish Fighter Coming Over Soon

BARCELONA, Jan. 20.—(I. N. S.)—The Basue heavyweight boxer, Paolino, will sail for the United States to fight a number of American heavyweights following his match with the Canadian fighter, Soldier Jones, in Paris, February 9, Francis Deschamps, the Basque's manager, announced today.

GRAIN MARKETS.

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Ill., Jan. 29.

Notwithstanding that at one time today the wheat market rallied almost 3½c from an early low level, sellers had the advantage throughout the greater part of th board of trade session. World export sales of wheat for the week are expected to be the largest in some time, and the market was also influenced by word that import duties into Czechoslovakia will be removed February 1, but renewed profit taking sales here acted as a weight on values.

Wheat closed unsettled, ⅛@1⅛c net lower, corn ¼@½c down and oats unchanged to ⅛c off.

WHEAT—Affected by profit taking sales and by assertins that the recent advance of the market had been too rapid, wheat prices averaged lower today during the early dealings. Liberal shipments from Australia attracted considerable notice as a bearish factor. On the other hand, less selling pressure from Argentina was noted, and it was pointed out tha twheat prices here were nearly 30 cents a bushel lower today than was the case a year ago. Chicago opening figures, unchanged to ⅜c off, May (new) $1.75½@1.76 and July $1.52¼@1.52½, were followed by numerous fluctuations within a range of about 1c.

CORN—Corn and oats were easy, taking their cue largely from the action of wheat. After opening at ⅛c decline to an equal advance, May 85@85⅛c, the corn market held inside of fractional limits.

OATS—Oats started unchanged to ⅛c up, May 47⅛c to 47⅜@48c. Later, the market sagged somewhat.

PROVISIONS—Provisoins were firmer, sympathizing with hog values.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Jan. 29.

Resumption of the upward movement in today's stock market was featured by bullish demonstrations in a number of pool specialties and a revival of speculative interest in the rails. Persistent rumors that negotiations were in progress for a merger of the California Packing and Postum Cereal companies stimulated the demand for the former stock, which soared 13 points to a new record high at 170. General Electric was bid up 5 points in apparent anticipation of another favorable dividend distribution and Famous Players jumped 5½ points. Oils maintained a strong undertone on the declaration of an extra dividend on Pure Oil and expectations of higher crude prices. The rails made belated response to the publication of favorable December earnings statements. Chesapeake & Ohio, Delaware & Hudson, Reading, Lehigh Valley, Southern Railway, "Katy" preferred and Illinois Central all selling a point or so higher.

Other strong spots included Durham Hosiery, New York Canners, National Biscuit, Coca Cola and International Harvester, all of which advanced 3 points or more above yesterday's final quotations.

Stock prices moved irregularly higher at the opening of today's market, with pool operations again in evidence in a number of specialties. Heavy buying of Sinclair, which opened a point higher, was one of the early features. Initial gains of point or more also were recorded by General Motors, Allied Chemical, Sears Roebuck and General Electric.

Rumors of impending food mergers stimulated the buying of those shares, California Packing soaring 6½ points to 164 before the end of the first half hour, and Loose-Wiles Biscuit and Postum Cereal each advancing over a point. Easy money rates were again an important factor in the advance, the weekly statement of the Federal Reserve bank showing another sharp decrease in loans and discounts.

Expected advances in crude, the increase in the Pure Oil dividend and rumors of new combinations, attended the active buying of th oil shares. Sinclair touching 23⅞. Burns brothers A jumped 6 points, Beechnut Packing and American Brakeshoe and Foundry 5½, Postum Cereal 4⅜ and Manhattan modified guaranteed 4½. Call loans were unchanged at 4 per cent.

LIVESTOCK MARKETS.

By the Associated Press.
OMAHA, Neb., Jan. 29.

CATTLE—Receipts, 13,000. Killing cattle sold at generally steady prices today. Demand was not very broad and as quality of the offerings was only fair, the market was rather featureless. Best steers here brought $9.50; not enough fresh stockers and feeders were on sale to make a market. Tone of the trade was slow and weak.

Closing: Fed steers and yearlings mostly steady; quality plain, most sales $8.00@9.40; she stock slow, steady to weak. Bulls and veals steady; stockers and feeders nominally steady; bulk butcher cows $5.00@6.00; heifers, $7.00@8.00; canners and cutters, $3.85@4.50; bologna bulls, $5.00@5.25; practical veal top, $11.00.

HOGS—Receipts, 9,700. Outlet to all quarters displayed considerable breadth today and both shippers and packers, owng to higher trends elsewhere were forced to pay sharp advances for their droves, upturns amounting to largely 25c with spots up more. Bulk of all sales was $12.15@12.75; extreme top for part load $12.85.

Closing: Active, mostly 25 to 35c higher; desirable 160 to 200 pound lights $12.65@12.85; top on 160 pounds up, $12.85; odd lots 140 to 160 pounds selections $12.75@12.85; 200 to 300 pound butchers, $12.25@12.65; packing sows, $10.75@11.00; bulk of sales, $12.15@12.75; average cost Thursday, $12.06; weight 240.

Lincoln Factories Ship Products to Other Continents

Japan, England, India and South Africa have been added to the list of nations to which Lincoln manufacturers export goods, according to a letter received Friday by Secretary Whitten of the chamber of commerce, from Chas D. Ammon of the Easy Manufacturing company.

Mr. Ammon wrote that his company has been shipping its pipe pushers and windmills to these countries and hopes soon to start a consignment of several carloads of mills to South Africa.

Among other things Mr. Ammon said "frankly Lincoln is a better town for manufacturing industries than its own business men give it credit for." He added that every effort should be made to acquaint the outside world with the advantages of the city as a center for industry.

Butler County to Abandon Its Farm

(Special to The Star.)

DAVID CITY, Neb., Jan. 29.—The county board of Butler county has just completed arrangements with the St. Joseph's old people's home, West Point, to care for those who are being looked after at the county farm at present. The county will pay for their board, clothing and medical services required, the home furnishing hospital care. This change will take place March 1. It is estimated that the new plan will save the tax payers of the county about $3,000.

Nebraska Hog Is Sent to Maryland

(Special to The Star.)

DILLER, Neb., Jan. 29.—A fancy Chester White sow of the purebred type was shipped by express from this place today to the United States experiment farm at Beltsville, Md. The animal was shipped by Alpha Wiemer, of the firm of Wiemer Brothers, fancy hog raisers of this vicinity, and it weighed 300 pounds. treasurer, Lincoln; Mrs. A. E. Sheldon, chairman of committee on education, Lincoln; Miss Ruth Comstock, chairman of the committee on legal status of women, Lincoln; Mrs. John Senning, chairman of the committee on efficiency and government, Lincoln.

At the morning meeting Miss Reed was appointed recording secretary of the state league to take the place of Mrs. Buck, of Grand Island, who has reigned to accept a position as matron of the soldiers' home in that city.

The board voted to send letters of appreciation to Nebraska senators for the action taken on the World court. It was decided that the state convention of the league would be held shortly after the national convention, which convenes April 4 to 21 at St. Louis. The exact time and place of the state meeting has not been decided. Miss Blanche Staulenburgh of Washington, D. C., has been appointed exeicutive secretary of the state league.

While in Lincoln Mrs. Dietrich will be the house guest of Mrs. E. F. Pettis.

Men On Tugs In Ice Make Way to Michigan Shore

MUSKEGON, Mich., Jan. 29.—(AP)—Three of the eight men who had been stranded on two ice-bound fishing tugs off shore in Lake Michigan near here, have made their way across ice floes to land. Martin Jensen, a member of the crew of the Indian, and Steve Nardeau, from the Helen N., reached shore early yesterday evening. Theodore Graham, jr., also made his way across the ice, arriving shortly before his companions.

The Helen N. is in charge of Peter Nardeau, with his brother, Steve Nardeau, Theodore Graham, sr., father of the man who made the trip across the ice to obtain help, and Herman Tromp as crew. The Indian is commanded by Capt. Jim Peterson, a veteran fisherman, with William Veltenheimer and Martin Jensen, aboard Theodore Graham, r., was a member of the crew of the Indian.

To Supply Water For Goose Lake

(Special to The Star.)

NELIGH, Neb., Jan. 29.—Work is to start this week on sinking four flowing wells at Goose lake. One will be five inches and the other three inches. These wells, through their constant flow of water, are expected not only to keep the lake open near the wells in the severest winters, to protect fish from smothering, but also in summer to keep the water in the lake up to a high level. They are to be sunk out in the lake. A landscape man is to draw plans for tree planting and laying out roads and will also suggest the kinds of trees most desirable to plant.

WYMORE FUNERAL.

(Special to The Star.)

WYMORE, Neb., Jan. 29.—Funeral services were held from St. Mary's Catholic church here this morning for Patrick Curtis, old resident of southwestern Gage county, who died at his home at Odell Tuesday morning. Burial was in Calvary cemetery at Wymore.

SUNDE HEARING NEARS AN END

Arguments Made In Trial of Youth Charged With Slaying.

LOGAN, Ia., Jan. 29.— (By the Associated Press)—Arguments were being made this afternoon in the trial of Alfred Sunde, Sioux City youth, accused of murdering John Armstrong, Logan night watchman, on the morning of December 14.

The arguments began immediately following resting of the defense in the forenoon. The defense made the same motions that Judge Dewell had overruled on Wednesday, for a directed verdict and for a removal of the first degree murder charge. They were again overruled.

In addition to testimony to substantiate its alibi, the defense this morning tried to get before the jury evidence to show that the state had made up a special description to fit Sunde after he had been arrested, but this was not permitted.

The case is expected to go to the jury late tonight or Saturday morning.

COMPROMISE ON FINANCE LOOMS

Believed Agreement On Program By French Parliament Is Certain.

PARIS, Jan.—(By the Associated Press)—Advocates of a compromise between the government and the left cartel in parliament on the financial question have worked so well that compromise now is regarded as assured and it is thought it will be possible to close the present debate either tonight or tomorrow.

The reason for belief in the compromise is that the left bloc, which declared war on the financial renovation plans of the government, has found that its own projects have met with much hostility.

Minister of Finance Doumer now is satisfied that a tax on production on which the compromise will be based, will be an adequate substitute for his own project for a stamp tax on business transactions and the so called production tax."

cold wave was marked with deep snows, blocked highways, impeded trains, and sub-zero temperatures that caused numerous fires and intense suffering in large cities. In the east, sections reported the coldest weather of the season.

Army airplanes were enlisted in the efforts to rescue five of eight men stranded for three days on two ice bound fishing tugs off Muskegon, Mich., after three of the crews escaped over the ice floes to short with the direful story of their comrades' plight.

Guards who watched helplessly ashore said last night that the steamer Alabama, which went to the rescue of the imprisoned tugs, had approached near enough to pass the men food and fuel, which the escaped trio said were the greatest needs. Two army pilots from Selfridge field were ready to drop cans of food and forty pound carton of coal on the craft today.

Relief In Sight.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29 —(By the Associated Press.)—Some relief within the next twenty-four hours from the intense cold weather now general over the United States is foreseen by the weather bureau.

In northern New England and the south Atlantic states the temperature is expected to rise tomorrow while an upward movement of the mercury is forecast for tonight and tomorrow in the states in the eastern part of the country.

The coldest weather reported for North America today was recorded at Doucet, about 200 miles northwest of Montreal, where a temperature of 56 below zero was reached.

CORNHUSKER TO BEAT TIME SET

that it will be necessary to install a heating plant in the building and it is expected that this will be completed within the next two weeks. Originally it had been planned that city steam would be used, but it was found that the size of the mains in that particular location makes that impracticable.

No Delay in Furnishing.

According to thep resent plans the interior finishing work will be started on the lower stories, and will progress upward as each story is completed. It is probable that the work of furnishing the building will be started soon after the first few floors are completed, and will follow on to the top floor on the heels of the builders. This will make it possible for the furnishing to be complete almost as soon as the interior finishing work is done.

The mild winter weather has been greatly responsible for the speedy construction work that has ben accomplished by Collins Brothers, the construction firm which has the contract for the erection of the building. There have been few days when the weather has been so severe as to bring the work to a halt. Now that the building is practically enclosed and the heating plant nearly installed, nothing can be foreseen which should cause any unusual delay in the finishing. Whether the building will be completed by the date set will depend in the future more on the speed shown by the sub-contractors who will have charge of the interior finishing work under the supervision of the Collins Brothers company.

gressional action by the conferences approval of the principles of the Dickinson farm surplus bill, the committee was considering the establishment of a legislative bureau in Washington to begin the fight for help in the national legislature.

George M. Peek, Moline Ill., former president of the Moline Plow Works and now president of the American Council of Agriculture, is permanent chairman of the committee, composed of two representatives from each of the twelve states. They are:

North Dakota Joins.

Iowa, Illinois, Indiana, Kansas, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Nebraska, Ohio, South Daktoa and Wisconsin. North Dakota, though not represented at the conference, at the state convention in the near future.

The conference closed its business with celerity after a day of addresses in which former Governor Frank O. Lowden, the governors of three states and several agricultural experts had reviewed the agricultural situation.

Not until the delegates were preparing to receive the reports of the resolutions committee and adjourn was there any indication of disharmony. The greatest stir was created by W. I. Drummond, Kansas City, Mo., chairman of the American Farm Congress, who chafged that the conference was not representative of middlwestern agriculture and that the resolutions committee was composed of men who championed particular farm relief bills.

Mark Woods Replies.

His charges precipitated a heated debate with Mark Woods, Lincoln, Neb., who charged Drummond's attitude was influenced by "bosses." Shouts of "program, program" prevailed as the chairman restored order and the conference returned to its deliberations.

In refusing to endorse any particular piece of farm relief legislation the conference adhered to the advice of several speakers who warned such action might forestall possibility of enactment of any kind of legislation favorable to the farm cause.

It failed to take cognizance of the situation created by the federal farm loan board placing in effect new regulations for the operation of joint stock land banks.

Organization of agriculture institutions, a practical study of commodity costs of production and provision for sale of agricultural products only at fair price were defined by the conference as the "three cardinal principles in the restoration of agriculture."

Wants Raise In Rivers, Harbors Appropriations

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—(AP).—An increase of $10,000,000 of the $40,000,000 recommended for rivers and harbors work during the next fiscal year will be sought by the house members from states included in the Mississippi river system.

At a conference Wednesday night, presided ove rby Representative Newton of Missouri, republican members from thirteen states decided to ask this increase of the house appropriations committee which is now drafting the war department supply bill which carries funds for this purpose.

Twenty-five members were present from Ohio, Pennsylvania, Illinois, Missouri, Kentucky, Kansas, Iowa, Nebraska, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Tennessee, South Dakota and Oklahoma.

BUILDING PERMITS.

E. B. Finney, 2110 Ryons street, remodel frame residence, $200.

E. H. Long, 3601 Dudley street, frame residence, $7,400 and frame garage, $400.

THE WEATHER.

With falling pressure throughout the northwest, fair and warmer weather prevails in the Rocky Mountain states, the Great Plains, the Missouri valley, and the upper Mississippi valley. Zero temperatures continue in the Lake region and fair and cold weather throughout the eastern and southeastern states. Rain has fallen in the Pacific states from central California northward, heavy at San Francisco.

Classified Service That Is Built For You

There's just one thought in the minds of this newspaper's Classified Advertising organization—and that's to make the A-B-C Classified Section as interesting and as convenient for you to read as it possibly can be.

And, of course, when they do this—they are working for better results for classified advertisers, at the same time.

That's why you see in these columns and columns of little ads a perfectly ararnged catalogue of offers and wants. That's why the four-score and more Classifications are in "1-2-3" order and the little ads in each one in "A-B-C" listing.

When you can find the kind of ads you want, when you want them—you're being well served.

OUTLOOK IS GOOD FOR COMING YEAR

Final Estimates For 1925 Show Gain Previous Twelve Months.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Jan. 29.—(By the Associated Press.)—Despite an opening note of caution and curtailmen usually manifest at the beginning of anew year conditions generally point to a heavy volume of business during 1926 in the tenth federal reserve district, but with no apparent boom tendencies. Such was the report made public today in the January review of the Federal Reserve bank of Kansas City.

Previous estimates of sales in 1925, the largest ever reported both in dollars and in the volume of goods distributed, were confirmed by complete reports for that year, the review stated. Sales in December, 1925, in nearly every line exceeded those reported for December, 1924. Retail trade at department stores in leading cities, the report said, was the largest of record for that month.

"December and the year 1925, were notable for large building operations in this district," continued the reviews. "The value of permits, $8,198,512 for December and $123,084,924 for the year, indicated that building programs in eighteen reporting cities had not been fully carried out and there was promise of large construction operations during the remainder of the winter and in the spring. Construction of hard surfaced highways set a new record during the year and there was a larger volume of public work in cities and towns than for several years. All this construction activity resulted in larger business in the manufacture and sales of materials, and was a large factor in the making of better employment conditions in this district than for many years.

"The mineral industries reported former high records for this district broken during 1925. The output of crude oil was the largest for any years on record and the value exceeded that for 192444 by 23.8 per cent. The year's production and shipment of zinc and lead ores was the largest in tonnage and value in the tri-state field.

"High records in most lines of manufacture were established during the last twelve months. Through restricted market supply, the slaughter of hogs at the packing plants fell below that for 1924. There were increases in the slaughter of cattle and calves and the slaughter of sheep was almost the same in number as in the previous year. The smaller receipts of wheat at leading markets of the district was responsible for a decrease of 7.3 per cent in the year's flour output at southwestern mills.

Crop Values Lower.

"Agricultural production in this district in 1925 was estimated in value at approximately $1,229,500,000, about $28,000,000 less than the value of 1924 crops, and $149,500,000 more than the value of 1923 crops. It was noted that the smaller production of wheat potatoes and hay brought higher farm prices per unit than prices paid for such crops produced in 1924. On the other hand the larger crops of corn, oats and cotton in 1925 brought lower prices per bushel or pound than was paid to growers for the crops of 1924.

"The livestock situation improved in 1925 and at the beginning of 1926 the industry was in a stronger position than for several years. This was due to readjustments of cattle values which placed breeding herds on a higher and more consistent level. The supply of cattle, calves and sheep was equal to market requirements, but the supply of hogs was 22.7 per cent smaller than that for 1924, and indicated fewer hogs on farms and smaller pig crops last spring and fall. There was reported a considerable restocking of cattle on some of the ranges and further expansion of cattle industry, through late surveys gave little promise of any increase in the farm supply of hogs for this year.

AGRICULTURAL NEWS from NEBRASKA COUNTIES

(Associated Press.)

Standardization and various ice cream making methods will be discussed at the short course for commercial ice cream makers to open at the University of Nebraska college of agriculture here February 8. The course will be conducted by the dairy department of the agricultural college, and will continue four days. About 20 ice cream makers will be enrolled.

Interest in Dairy Meets.

WAHOO—Growing interest was shown in the three dairy feeding meetings held at Mead, Ashland and Cedar. M. L. Flack, dairyman of the agricultural college, addressed the meeting on the choice of feeds for economical milk production. He urged farmers to make use of home grown feeds as far as possible, rationing them in such a way to promote milk flow. It was pointed out that there are two important factors with reference to feeding dairy cows. First, feed for the maintenance of the cow, that is, the feed required to keep the animal at normal weight and provide body heat and second, feed for milk production. Only an abundance of feed of suitable quality and variety will enable the cow to yield a maximum quantity of milk and butterfat.

The five considerations in a balanced ration are cost, palatability, effect on health ,bulk and variety. Mr. Flack pointed out that a good ration may be planned after determining the protein content of the available roughage and computing the amount of grain feeds to be added on this basis. For example, if a high protein roughage like alfalfa hay is available, a grain mixture containing from 12 to 14 per cent protein should be added. With a roughage combination of high and low protein content such as alfalfa and corn silage ,a protein supplement of 15 to 16 per cent in the grain is required, while in roughage of low protein such as prairie hay a grain mixture containing at least 18 per cent protein should be fed. Grain mixtures may be supplied by the use of corn, oats, barley, bran, oil or cottonseed meal in different proportions. The value of grinding feed for the dairy cow was emphasized and the use of corn and cob meal recommended.

In computing the amount of grain to feed the dairy sow, a simple rule is to feed in proportion of one pound of grain to each three pints or pounds of milk produced daily. In case a cow produces a large flow of milk of 40 pounds or more, 1 pound of grain for every 4 pounds or more. 1 pound of grain for every 4 pounds of milk. The importance of salt in the dairy ration and the availability of pure water at all times was emphasized.

LINCOLN—Higher egg production is had when farm hens have access to green feed during the winter months, sprouted oats were recommended by County Extension Agent Purhaugh of Lancaster as excellent green feed. The oats can be conveniently sprouted by soaking one day and transferring into wooden candy baskets, with holes bored in the bottoms. The oats should be sprinkled daily and allowed to sprout in a warm room. They may be fed when the sprouts are about one-half inch long at the rate of about two quarts to 100 hens.

Pig Contest at Geneva.

GENEVA—The agricultural extension service of the state college is co-operating with the county farm bureau this year in giving a standard pig crop contest. The contest is being carried out in connection with the sanitation work and is divided into three divisions. A certificate of achievement will be awarded to each farmer meeting the requirements of either of the three divisions. The Nebraska Improved Livestock Breeders' association will award blue, red and white seals for the certificates. The requirements for a blue seal are an average of at least 7 1-2 pigs per sow on the date when the pigs average six months of age. The pigs must average 200 pounds or more.

Says Freeze Hurt Corn.

LINCOLN—Since the unseasonable severe freeze of late October when temperatures over much of the state dropped to within a few degrees of zero, there has been much speculation as to the damage to seed corn, Prof. W. W. Burr of the Nebraska agricultural college said in an article published in the Nebraska Farmre.

"The Sebraska Experiment station has found," Professor Burr said, "that freezing injury to seed corn is directly related to the amount of moisture in the corn and the severity of the freezo. A few degrees below freezing will not materially damage corn containing 20 to 25 per cent moisture but will seriously injure corn containing 30 to 40 per cent. A severe freeze such as that in October will injure seed corn even though it may contain as little as 20 per cent moisture."

Basing his opinion on the results of some 300 seed corn tests carried through by the experiment station Mr. Burr said the average samples in the field at the time of the freeze will germinate from about 60 to 70 per cent with strong germination of about 45 per cent.

"If the seed for next year must be selected from this kind of corn," he said, "it will warrant careful selection. The only way to determine if corn will grow is to test it. In this connection one will find that the earlier types of ears, rather long and slender with kernels not too deep and rough are most apt to grow. The tests show there is good sed in every county if not on every farm, but extreme care will be necessary to call attention to the selection of good seed."

Woman Claims Record.

PAWNEE—Mrs. Dick Percival of Pawnee county has entered her record for consideration among Nebraska's women cornhuskers. Her best record was 106 bushels in a few minutes over ten hours last fall, brought in two loads of 26 and 27 bushels during the morning and two more of the same amount during the afternoon. The yield of corn ran about 50 bushels to the acre. Mrs. Percival husked around the 100 bushel mark on several occasions during the season.

Briefly Told News From The Wires

NEW YORK—(AP)—Net earnings of the Bethelem Steel corporation for the final quarter of 1925 amounted to $10,543,136, bringing the total for the year to $38,988,742, compared with the $33,996,489 in 1924. The general outlook in the steel industry for at least the first half of 1926 is favorable, said President Eugene G. Grace. The regular quarterly preferred dividends were declared.

Berlin's Latest Song Commentary On His Marriage

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.— (AP) —Mr. and Mrs. Irving Berlin's large wedding cake, still uncut, was delivered yesterday to Berlin's Broadway office by Robert Sweetlove, stewart of the liner Leviathan, to be kept there until the return of the couple in the spring.

Sweetlove said that during the honeymoon voyage to Europe Berlin proposed cutting the cake, but Mrs. Berlin had objected, saying:

"No, Irving. Let us save this for our first party when we get back. Maybe by that time, papa——."

It was learned yesterday that Mr. Berlin sent back the lyric of his latest song by radio from the Leviathan. It is titled "Always," and is said to be a commentary on his marriage to Ellin Mackay, daughter of the president of the Postal Telegraph Company, without whose "knowledge or consent," the marriage was solemnized. Beginning with the line "I'll be loving you always," it ends as follows:

"Not for just a day,
"Not for just a year,
"But always."

ILL WITH PNEUMONIA.

(Special to the Star.)

BEATRICE, Neb., Jan. 29.— Ben Balderson, old resident of Pickrell, is seriously ill from an attack of double pneumonia. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Balderson of that place.

VASCULAR CORNS

The Kind That Nothing But "End-O-Corn" Will Remove. Your Chiropodist Will Not Take Them Off.

Have you a corn (or corns) that do not yield to ANY treatment? The ordinary "corn cure," liquids or salves will not take them off. Your chiropodist is afraid of them because they are full of little blood vessels.

END-O-CORN" is the ONLY corn remedy that will take them out and leave the foot absolutely sound and comfortable.

"END-O-CORN" CAN NOT burn nor make the flesh tender and sore. It ENDS CORNS AND CALLOUSES just as surely as you use it for two or three nights.

Every package contains a MONEY GUARANTEE that you can CASH AT ANY BANK if your corns don't disappear.

The Harley Drug Co. urges everyone who has corn or callous troubles to use "End-O-Corn" because every jar means a happy and satisfied customer.

If Karnak Didn't Help Those Who Take It They Would Stop Buying It

Nothing On Earth But The Extraordinary Merit Of This Amazing Medicine Could Be Responsible For Its Enormous Sale.

W. H. ENGLEKING, of 140 N. 11th St., Lincoln, who told of his amazing recovery after taking Karnak last March and says so many people ask him if the results has been lasting that he wants to say 'yes' to the entire public. "Why, I've gained 14 pounds and grown stronger all the time," he declares.

W. H. Engleking.

It's the fact that the sensational medicine, Karnak, is relieving neighbors, friends and such scores of fellow townsmen of troubles just like their own, that is causing Lincoln men and women in such enormous numbers to buy Karnak.

Never before have Lincoln people been known to buy a medicine like they are buying Karnak. They demand this sensational medicine daily in ever increasing numbers—and they will accept no substitute.

And, if Karnak did not help these people after they take it, they would not praise it and they would not continue to buy it. And, of course anyone knows better than anybody else, whether or not a medicine helps them. Any statement contrary to this is ridiculous.

The people of Lincoln know Karnak is benefiting them They know how their neighbors praise it. They take it themselves and experience the same blessed relief from their suffering. And as a result, the sale of Karnak at the Harley Drug Co., continues daily to reach enormous figures.

It is such statements as these from happy people made well and strong by Karnak being heard on all sides every day, that has made Karnak the biggest thing of its kind ever seen in Lincoln.

"Worth Weight In Gold."

"Money couldn't buy the good Karnak did me. I tell you this medicine rid me of thirty years suffering from stomach and liver disorders, stopped all those gas pains, indigestion, biliousness, headaches and weak spells, and fixed me up as fine as a fiddle in every way. Yes sir, Karnak is worth its weight in gold." S. C Quick, Piano Tuner, 1040 Q St., Lincoln.

Rheumatism All Gone.

"I tell you, this Karnak sure did relieve my wife of five years of terrible rheumatism and stomach suffering. Why, she could hardly eat enough to keep body and soul together and was in pain and misery all the time. Yes sir, I'd rather see her well and happy as this medicine made her than own all the property in town." Bert Macrow, 32nd & Mohawk Sts., Lincoln.

Has Gained 12 Pounds.

"I'm so well and happy since taking Karnak I believe I'm the happiest woman in town. I gained 12 pounds and wouldn't take a fortune for what Karnak has done for me—My two sons take Karnak, too, and think as much of it as I do." Mrs F. C. Miller, 718 J St., Lincoln.

Is Made Well And Happy.

"About all my wife can talk about is Karnak, and I don't blame her, for I had rather see her rid of all her stomach suffering and well and happy like this medicine made her than have anything money could buy. I tell you, Karnak is a remarkable medicine." P. M. Stiles, 527 G St., Lincoln.

Karnak is sold in Lincoln exclusively by the Harley Drug Co., in Havelock by the Baker Drug Store, and by the leading druggists in every town.—Advertisement.

HERE IS SOMETHING REAL

A New Discovery!

A Pleasant Reducing Chewing Gum

Through a most marvelous recent discovery scientists have been able to incorporate the extract of sea plants known for years as wonderful reducers into a delicious, refreshing chewing gum called "Silph"—Doctors—medical authorities, and grateful users, who had been burdened with obesity for years, are amazed at the quick and astonishing results produced by "Silph" in most obstinate cases where everything else seemed to have failed.

The above picture of Mrs. N. of Brooklyn shows you what Silph Reducing Gum has done for a woman who had been overburdened with fat for years and years. Today she is back to her normal weight. All she did was to chew Silph Reducing Gum for a few weeks and here is the result. You can do the same—already hundreds are reducing with Silph every day.

The moment you start chewing Silph you feel a wonderful change in your system—stomach and intestinal troubles vanish—no more pains or aches—through the flow of saliva mixed with the gastric juices and these extract of sea plants, Silph eliminates from your system certain elements which causes for FAT and you will be amazed how easily and quickly you can lose all excess weight.

Silph is not a drug, nor a laxative, but a pleasant reducer in candy form. What could be more pleasant than to chew two or three pieces of gum a day and know that your excess fat is gradually and surely going for good.

Silph not only appeals to people already overburdened with excess fat but to those who have a tendency to obesity. It is a wonderful way to prevent FAT to accumulate on the figure—it is harmless and recognized as a wonderful tonic—recommended to men, women and children, not only for reducing, but to do away with all worn out, tired feeling—Silph sells for 50 cents a box, enough for one week at all drug stores.

In case your druggist is out of Silph you can get it from the Silph Medical Co., 9 W. 60th St., N. Y. City. Silph sells for 50c. per box or two full weeks' supply, $1.00.
